I Repeat Dialing

Automatically redials the last outgoing number after the customer activates the service by dialing *66 from a touch-tone phone, or 1166 from a rotary dial phone. Repeat Dialing monitors the busy line and performs a call set-up when both the originating and terminating lines become idle. After activation of the feature, the originating and terminating customers may place other calls without affecting the Repeat Dialing service status. This service may also be used to recall a called party after the conversation has been terminated.

II Call Return

Enables a customer to return the last incoming call, whether or not it was answered. The customer dials the activation code of *69 from a touch-tone phone, or 1169 from a rotary dial phone, and the last incoming call is announced. If the incoming call was placed from a line designated as "private", the recording will indicate that the number is private and will announce only the date and time of the call. To activate the Call Return function, the customer would then dial "1". If the line is busy when the customer activates the service, a confirmation announcement is heard, the customer hangs up, and a queuing process begins. For the next thirty minutes both the calling and called parties' lines are checked periodically. The call set-up is made when both the originating and terminating lines are idle. After activation of the feature, the originating and terminating customers may place other calls without affecting the Call Return service status. Up to ten calls may be held in queue for the customer's Call Return activation. The call backs may be to areas where a toll charge would be applicable. This feature cannot be activated for all telephone numbers such as numbers with the 800 or 900 prefixes, or PBX extensions.

III Caller ID

Allows the customer to view the telephone number of the calling party when receiving a telephone call. The telephone number of the calling party is displayed on a customer provided display device. However, the calling party may subscribe to services which will prevent the disclosure of their telephone number. In such instances, a privacy indication will appear on the customer-provided display device instead of the calling party's telephone number.

IV Caller ID with Name

This service will allow a customer to receive the calling party's name in addition to the date, time and number of the calling party during the first silent interval of the power ringing cycle, i.e., before the call is answered. However, the calling party may subscribe to services found in this tariff that will prevent the disclosure of such information. In such cases, a privacy indication will appear on the customer-provided display device instead of the calling party's name and number.

V Call Screening

Provides the customer with a method of blocking calls from certain numbers, which may or may not be known to the customer. The customer may create a screening list of up to fifteen (15) telephone numbers, and place them in network memory through an interactive dialing sequence. The customer may also activate the service after receiving a call, and thus place the number associated with that call on the Call Screening screening list. To activate the feature, the customer dials *60 from a touch-tone phone, or 1160 from a rotary dial phone, and the telephone number of each incoming call is checked against the customer's Call Screening screening list.

VI Special Call Acceptance

Provides the customer with a method to accept calls from certain numbers only. Up to ten (10) numbers may be added to the screening list through an interactive dialing sequence. The customer dials *64 from a touch-tone phone, or 1164 from a rotary-dial phone, to activate the service. Each incoming call is then checked against the customer's Special Call Acceptance screening list.

VII Preferred Call Forwarding

Allows customers to create a special list of telephone numbers and a destination number through an interactive dialing sequence. By dialing *63 from a touch-tone phone, or 1163 from a rotary dial phone, the customer activates the service. Only incoming calls from numbers appearing on the list will be forwarded to the predetermined remote station.

VIII Priority Ringing

Allows customers to designate several numbers that will be recognized immediately as important calls by means of a distinctive alerting signal. Up to ten (10) numbers may be added to the screening list through an interactive dialing sequence. The customer then dials *61 from a touch-tone phone, or 1161 from a rotary dial phone, and activates the service. When the incoming call is identified as one of the numbers on the list, a distinctive ring will be produced in the customer's telephone to alert them that an important call is coming in. If the customer is using the phone and one of the selected numbers comes through on Call Waiting, the customer will receive a distinctive call waiting signal to let them know an important call is awaiting them.

IX Anonymous Call Rejection

This service enables a subscriber to reject incoming calls from which a privacy indicator is received. The service is activated by dialing a unique code. When the service is active, the Company will not complete calls to its customer when the calling party has activated Caller ID blocking services. Such calls will be routed to a Company recorded announcement.

X Call Trace

Call Trace allows customers to request an automatic trace of the last call received by dialing a designated code immediately following termination of the last incoming call. The customer will hear a recording explaining the charges and how to proceed with or terminate the trace. An announcement will also inform the customer if the trace has been successful and offers a number to call for further instructions. The Call Trace feature must be activated before receiving another call so that the correct number will be recorded. If the customer subscribed to Call Waiting and the customer gets a Call Waiting signal while an annoying call is in progress, the annoyance call cannot be traced using this feature. The results of a successful trace will only be released outside the Company to legally constituted authorities with proper authorization.

This service allows the subscriber to book calls from the switch at a set time of day. An announcement is played when the subscriber answers. The customer will hear a recording explaining the charges and how to proceed with or terminate the trace. The Call Trace feature must be activated before receiving another call so that the correct number will be recorded. If the customer subscribed to Call Waiting and the customer gets a Call Waiting signal while an annoying call is in progress, the annoyance call cannot be traced using this feature. The results of a successful trace will only be released outside the Company to legally constituted authorities with proper authorization.

Explanation of Tariff Changes

The Wabash Mutual Telephone Company ("Wabash") is making a number of tariff revisions, which consist of changes in rates, addition of new services, revisions to descriptions of existing services, and the elimination of discounts for multiple services.

By reducing the rates for certain features, Wabash will be providing additional value to its customers. Wabash is also providing more current descriptions of certain features and how the customers enable and disable them.

Although discontinuing the discounts for multiple services, Wabash believes that customers will see overall reductions in their bills as a result of the reduced feature rates.

Wabash also eliminated "Do Not Disturb – Telemarketing" because the service is no longer available in its new switch. Wabash has no customers subscribing to this feature.
