COMMENT DESCRIPTION:

I am very concerned that Duke Energy would receive yet another increase after their 30% increase last fall. I certainly have not received a 45% cost of living increase in the last two years.

In addition, Duke has given financial rewards (kickbacks) to large companies while the taxpayer bears the full brunt of their increases.

Gas and electric are not a commodity that taxpayers can choose to eliminate from their budget. They are a basic need.

Taxpayers are able to conserve money in other areas: generic drugs, hamburger rather than ground round, water rather than milk. but they require gas and electric for functional homes.

Please consider that taxpayers have NO choice. Do NOT allow further increases. Sincerely, Linda Stone
