Re: Boundary Change - Case No. 08-1132-TP-ACB

On September 29, 2008, AT&T Ohio filed a letter of transmittal as contemplated by Rule 4901:1-3-03(G), Ohio Administrative Code (O.A.C.), to advise the Commission of a change in telephone boundaries involving two AT&T Ohio telephone exchanges. The revised maps filed by AT&T Ohio reflect the incorporation of a portion of AT&T Ohio's Miamisburg-West Carrollton Exchange into the company's Franklin Exchange. AT&T Ohio submits that the boundary change involves the Indian Trace Subdivision which will consist of forty-two single family-residential units. The affected area is approximately 17,000 feet closer to the Franklin central office than to the Miamisburg-West Carrollton central office. Moreover, AT&T Ohio avers that this change will not adversely affect the service being furnished to any existing subscriber and that facilities are available in the Franklin central office to serve this area. In light of the foregoing and based upon the assertions made by AT&T Ohio in its September 29, 2008, transmittal letter, this matter should be considered approved pursuant to Rule 4901:1-3-03(M), O.A.C.
