Case # 09-454-TP-ACO
Public Utilities Commission Of Ohio
ATTN: Docketing Division
180 E, Broad St.
Columbus, OH. 43215

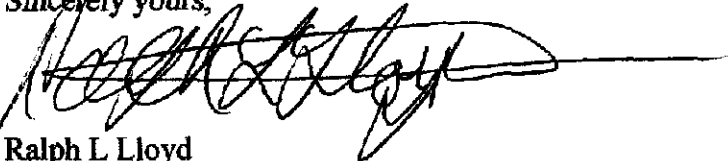

To Whom It May Concern:

If you are going to make broadband service available to 90% of Verizons current residential customers in 3yrs and 100% in 5yrs, also eliminate the $1.25 access recovery fee to current customers, and maintain Improving service quality, you must have a company with a service ability to service 435,000 residential customers. I don't see how a company that only services 480 customers like Frontier does could do the job, lets use some logic here.

What Verizon really wants to do is divest themselves of all their residential customers. That should be apparent when you look at their previous service records. What they really want to do is saddle some small company with their problems so they can go and service all their Business Customers.

How can you people actually believe this is good for the public? Do you really believe that this will benefit Ohio residents?

Sincerely yours,

Ralph L Lloyd
