Telecommunications Relay Service)

MOTION TO EXTEND PROTECTIVE ORDER

Pursuant to the February 12, 2009 Entry in this proceeding and Ohio Adm.Code 4901-1-24(D), Hamilton Telephone Company d/b/a Hamilton Telecommunications ("Hamilton") hereby moves to extend the protective order granted in that Entry in order to keep the following sections included in Hamilton's proposal to provide TRS in Ohio confidential and excluded from the public record: Attachment C (Quality Assurance), Attachment D (Network Maps), Attachment E (Disaster Recovery Plan), Attachment I (Financial History), Attachment L (CA Training), and Attachment M (Policy and Procedures Manual) (collectively, the "Confidential Information").

Hamilton requests that the Commission issue such order as is necessary to continue to protect the Confidential Information. Non-disclosure of the information is not inconsistent with the purposes of Title 49 of the Revised Code because the Commission and its Staff continue to have full access to the Confidential Information in order to fulfill their statutory obligations.

The basis for this Motion may be found in the attached Memorandum of Support.

Respectfully submitted,

BEFORE THE PUBLIC UTILITIES COMMISSION OF OHIO

In the Matter of the Commission's Investigation) into Continuation of the Ohio)	Case No. 08-439-TP-COI
Telecommunications Relay Service)

MEMORANDUM IN SUPPORT OF MOTION TO EXTEND PROTECTIVE ORDER

Hamilton Telephone Company d/b/a Hamilton Telecommunications ("Hamilton") seeks to extend the protection of Attachments C, D, E, I, L, and M (together, the "Confidential Information"), which were filed under seal in conjunction with Hamilton's proposal to provide TRS in Ohio. The Attachments provide the Commission with documentation relative to Pricing, Quality Assurance, Network Maps, Disaster Recovery, Financial History, CA Training and Policy and Procedures, respectively.

As was the case when Hamilton initially filed the Confidential Information, Hamilton considers the information to be, and has treated it as, a trade secret. The need for protection from public disclosure, as stated in Hamilton's Memorandum of Support of its original Motion for Protective Order filed February 2, 2009 (incorporated herein by reference), continues today. It continues to be true that the Confidential Information includes detail about the operations and finances of Hamilton that would be of significant interest to competitors. Consequently, that data constitutes confidential information that should not be disclosed in the public record.

The Confidential Information constitutes trade secrets as defined in Revised Code §1333.61(D). The information (1) derives economic value, actual or potential, from not being generally known to, and not being readily ascertainable by proper means by other persons who can obtain economic value from its disclosure or use, and (2) is the subject of efforts that are reasonable under the circumstances to maintain its secrecy.

The Ohio Supreme Court adopted six factors to be used in determining whether a trade secret claim meets the statutory definition:

- 1) The extent to which the information is known outside the business;
- 2) The extent to which it is known to those inside the business, i.e., by the employees;
- 3) The precautions taken by the holder of the trade secret to guard the secrecy of the information;
- 4) The savings effected and the value to the holder in having the information as against competitors;
- 5) The amount of effort or money expended in obtaining and developing the information; and
- 6) The amount of time and expense it would take for others to acquire and duplicate the information.

State ex rel. The Plain Dealer v. Ohio Dept. of Ins., 80 Ohio St.3d 513, 524-525 (1997).

The Confidential Information is not known outside of Hamilton and is known within Hamilton only to senior managers and a limited number of employees with a particular need to know. Hamilton has taken precautions to guard the secrecy of the Confidential Information by limiting its dissemination. Further, Hamilton expended a significant amount of time and money in developing the Confidential Information. Disclosure of the Confidential Information would harm Hamilton's competitive position in the marketplace. (See attached Affidavit of John Nelson, Vice President, Hamilton Telephone Company.)

The protection of trade secret information from public disclosure is consistent with the purposes of Title 49 because the Commission and its Staff have access to the information. Granting protection of the Confidential Information requested herein will not impair the Commission's regulatory responsibilities.

Confidential treatment of Attachments C, D, E, I, L, and M to Hamilton's 2009 proposal to provide TRS in Ohio is therefore both appropriate and required by Ohio law and the Commission's rules. For the foregoing reasons, Hamilton prays that its Motion to Extend Protective Order be granted and that the Confidential Information be protected from public disclosure for an additional eighteen-month period, reserving its right to seek further protection pursuant to Ohio Adm.Code 4901-1-24.

Respectfully submitted,

AFFIDAVIT OF JOHN NELSON

STATE OF NEBRASKA

COUNTY OF HAMILTON

NOW COMES John Nelson, being first duly cautioned and sworn, deposes and says as follows:

1. I am Vice President of Hamilton Telephone Company d/b/a Hamilton Telecommunications ("Hamilton"), 1001 12th Street, Aurora, Nebraska, 68818. I make this Affidavit on behalf of Hamilton, and do so in the ordinary discharge of my responsibilities.
2. I have personal knowledge of all relevant matters pertaining to the Motion to Extend Protective Order, which Hamilton is contemporaneously filing with the Public Utilities Commission of Ohio. I am authorized the make this Affidavit on behalf of Hamilton.
3. Hamilton continues to consider the information filed under seal in this proceeding on February 2, 2009 as Attachments C, D, E, I, L, and M, (the "Confidential Information") to be confidential.
4. The Confidential Information is not otherwise available to the general public, and includes detail about the operations and finances of Hamilton that would be of significant interest to competitors. Consequently, Hamilton is requesting that the Confidential Information not be disclosed to the public.
5. Hamilton considers the Confidential Information to be, and has treated it as, a trade secret. As a result, the need to protect the Confidential Information from public disclosure continues today.

6. The Confidential Information derives independent economic value, actual or potential, from not being generally known to, and not being readily ascertainable by proper means, by other persons who can derive economic value from its disclosure or use.
7. The Confidential Information is provided only to Hamilton's senior management and a restricted list of employees who have a particular need to know the Confidential Information.
8. The Confidential Information continues to be indicative of Hamilton's current and future business plans and, therefore, public disclosure of the Confidential Information would place Hamilton at a competitive and economic disadvantage.
9. The Confidential Information is the subject of efforts by Hamilton that are reasonable under the circumstances to maintain its secrecy.
10. Hamilton has expended a significant amount of time and money to develop the Confidential Information. Disclosure of the Confidential Information would harm Hamilton's competitive position in the marketplace.
11. The Confidential Information is not outdated or stale and it continues to be true that competitors could unfairly benefit from its public disclosure.

FURTHER AFFIANT SAYETH NAUGHT.

John Nelson

Sworn to before me and subscribed in my presence this 5th day of June 2010.
