In the Matter of the Application of Duke Energy
Ohio, Inc. for Approval of Tariff for Rate TD-LITE.)
) Case No. 10-2429-EL-ATA

Opportunity Act of 1964, community action is charged with advocating for low-income residents of their communities.²

OPAE also provides essential services in the form of bill payment assistance programs and weatherization and energy efficiency services to low income customers of Duke. OPAE members are also ratepayers of Duke.

OPAE's primary interest in this case is to protect the interests of low and moderate income Ohioans whose provision of electric service may be affected by this application. Further, OPAE has been recognized by the Commission in the past as an advocate for consumers and particularly low-income consumers, who may be affected by the outcome of this case.

² See 42 U.S.C. 672:

The purposes of this subtitle are--

(1) to provide assistance to States and local communities, working through a network of community action agencies and other neighborhood-based organizations, for the reduction of poverty, the revitalization of low-income communities, and the empowerment of low-income families and individuals in rural and urban areas to become fully self-sufficient (particularly families who are attempting to transition off a State program carried out under part A of title IV of the Social Security Act (42 U.S.C. 601 et seq.)); and

(2) to accomplish the goals described in paragraph (1) through--

(A) the strengthening of community capabilities for planning and coordinating the use of a broad range of Federal, State, local, and other assistance (including private resources) related to the elimination of poverty, so that this assistance can be used in a manner responsive to local needs and conditions;

(B) the organization of a range of services related to the needs of low-income families and individuals, so that these services may have a measurable and potentially major impact on the causes of poverty in the community and may help the families and individuals to achieve self-sufficiency;

(C) the greater use of innovative and effective community-based approaches to attacking the causes and effects of poverty and of community breakdown;

(D) the maximum participation of residents of the low-income communities and members of the groups served by programs assisted through the block grants made under this subtitle to empower such residents and members to respond to the unique problems and needs within their communities; and

(E) the broadening of the resource base of programs directed to the elimination of poverty so as to secure a more active role in the provision of services for--

(i) private, religious, charitable, and neighborhood-based organizations; and

(ii) individual citizens, and business, labor, and professional groups, who are able to influence the quantity and quality of opportunities and services for the poor.

OPAE is a party to the Duke SmartGrid collaborative which assisted in the development of the proposed TD-LITE rate for residential service for those customers with advanced metering. This is a limited pilot program to test the SmartGrid technology. Customers on the pilot who do not take proper advantage of the rate TD-LITE may see a bill increase as a result of their participation in the pilot program. Therefore, the pilot should be limited in number and scope to test the customer reaction to this rate. Vulnerable customer groups should not be encouraged to participate in a pilot program that might potentially increase their cost of service.

For the above reasons, OPAE has a direct, real and substantial interest in this matter. The disposition of this matter may impair or impede OPAE's ability to protect its interests. No other party to the matter will adequately represent the interests of OPAE. OPAE is a rare organization that serves as an advocate, service provider and nonprofit customer group. No other party represents this group of interests. OPAE's participation in this matter will not cause undue delay, will not unjustly prejudice any existing party, and will contribute to the just and expeditious resolution of the issues raised by this docket.

Therefore, OPAE is entitled to intervene in this application with the full powers and rights granted by statute and by the provisions of the Commission's Codes of Rules and Regulations to intervening parties.
