

from just about any store in Ohio. Thanks to the Ohio Consumer Council we were spared from that initial attempt to force these bulbs into our homes. But now it looks like politics has won. Is there no honesty in politics today? Elected and appointed officials need to look at the reason they go to work everyday and decide just who they work for; is it big business, unions or the people of Ohio.

Sincerely,

Bill Harris