CEO Vectren,

We are writing to ask why you have given FIRST ENERGY the right to tell us what light bulbs we are to use and also add a monthly fee to our Ohio Edison bill to pay for them. We do not want the light bulbs and should not be charged for them. They are very expensive and do not provide good light. We have tried them out. Are we becoming a communist state? The bulbs are made in China. We are sick and tired of Chinese products. The quality of goods from China is poor when compared to American made goods.

General Electric closed at least four plants in the Mahoning valley that were involved with the production of light bulbs. FIRST ENERGY has a large stock pile of expensive Chinese bulbs and they want their money for a poor idea. They should eat the loss and give the bulbs away as a goodwill gesture. I am sure this would be a tax write off for them.

We don't know if the bulbs even work or how long they have been in storage. The "new bulbs" are supposed to last five years. We are not going to go around the house tagging light bulbs and time them for replacement. We want FIRST ENERGY'S gestapo tactics stopped. It is up to us to save energy by using it wisely. We turn off unused light bulbs and appliances when not in use. Freedom of choice is ours, OR WAS IT? What is next with regard to our rights?

Respectfully,
Margaret Sabo
