COMPLAINT DESCRIPTION:

I just read in the Star Beacon (Ashtabula County) that the temporary-reinstatement order for the all-electric discount expires on May 31, 2011. Owners of all electric homes NEED that discount. In 1976, when we built our house, we did not want all electric. We wanted propane or oil. Unfortunately the country was in the middle of a gas/oil shortage and the gas/oil providers in the state were not taking any new customers. WE WERE FORCED TO GO ALL-ELECTRIC. The discount was the only thing that made it possible for us to live in an all electric house. Now they want to take it away....right after we reach retirement age and live on a fixed income. I am not concerned about resale value. The housing market in this county is pretty much dead and likely to stay that way for a long while. I just want to be able to live somewhat comfortably in my home. Please do not take away the discount. If something must be changed, then at least consider a lower rate or some sort of compromise that allows us to heat our home and use the lights.
