Re: Case No. 10-2387-TP-COI - In the Matter of the Commission's Investigation into Intrastate Carrier Access Reform Pursuant to S.B. 162

Dear Secretary Jenkins:

T-Mobile Central, LLC and VoiceStream Pittsburgh, LP (collectively "T-Mobile") hereby notifies the Public Utilities Commission of Ohio ("PUCO") that T-Mobile will not be submitting supplemental comments in the above referenced case, but does reserve the right to file supplemental reply comments on or before July 15, 2011 pursuant to the PUCO's order dated April 15, 2011.

T-Mobile has previously filed comments in this matter, making clear that the PUCO should not create an Ohio access recovery fund ("ARF") because it is unnecessary and ultimately will result in a surcharge on end-user customers.¹ After reviewing the discovery that has been filed in the case, T-Mobile continues to believe that the PUCO's goal of restructuring access fees can be attained through Independent Local Exchange Carrier ("ILEC") adjustments to Basic Local Exchange Services ("BLES") and the myriad services provided over their network through a transition period of approximately four to five years. Such a plan, once enacted, would enable carriers to recover revenue that may be lost as a consequence of implementing intrastate access fees that mirror interstate access fees without creating a state fund.

Respectfully submitted,

Garnet Hanly
