11-307-GA-UEX; and, 11-314-GA-UEX

Dear Ms. McCauly,

On behalf of Southeastern Natural Gas Company and Pike Natural Gas Company, I am submitting as late filed Exhibits Company Exhibits 3 and 4, respectively, in these cases. These Late Filed Exhibits contain affidavits of publication indicating that notice of the January 3, 2012 hearing was published in various newspapers of general circulation throughout the service territory of each of these companies.

Additionally, we have discovered an inadvertent error in the Stipulation and Recommendation that was filed on December 28, 2011. Accordingly, also attached is an Errata to the Stipulation and Recommendation that corrects the inadvertent error.

With these filings, these cases are now ready for Commission disposition.

Please do not hesitate to contact me if you have any questions regarding this matter.

Sincerely,

Lisa G. McAlister

from its inexperience Saturday evening during a 52-34 loss to Dublin Scioto.

"We had a lot of turnovers (31) tonight because of our youth and inexperience," said coach Aric Tucker. "All we can do is play through it and get better."

At several times during the game, the Lady Monarchs (1-1) had three sophomores and two freshmen on the floor. They were matched up against primarily juniors and seniors from Dublin and the results were predictable.

Neither team set the world on fire offensively during the opening period as numerous possessions for both sides came up empty.

Along with the turnovers, the Lady Monarchs (who will travel to Olentangy Liberty on Tuesday) shot only 29 percent from the floor.

Still, MHS was the first team to move the scoreboard nearly two minutes into the contest when Katy Turner took the ball to the hoop.

She later connected on a traditional three-point play as Marysville stretched its lead to 7-2.

The Irish scored buckets in transition on Monarch turnovers and tied the game at 7-7 with 1:40 left in the quarter.

Senior Jordan Fisher knocked down a three-pointer to give MHS a 10-7 lead with less than a minute to play in the set.
