COMMENT DESCRIPTION:

Good Morning, I would like to comment on AEP's proposal to charge Ohio electric consumers for the costs associated with the June 29, 2012 Derecho. I am strongly opposed to this proposal, as it will hurt consumers and businesses alike. Many small businesses are struggling with already high electric bills on top of not being able to do business for a week due to the lack of electricity. AEP has the financial means to absorb the cost of this storm, and it will not threaten their bottom line. I urge the PUCO to reject AEP's proposal. Thank you.

Dear Chairman Snitchler:

As a customer of AEP, I urge you to reject its proposal to limit my ability to save money on my electric bill by switching to another electric supplier.

By imposing excessive capacity fees on other suppliers, AEP's proposed Electric Security Plan would harm competition so it can protect its profits on the backs of customers like me. While nearly 2 million Ohioans are shopping every month with competitive retail suppliers, AEP is the only utility in Ohio that wants to place artificially inflated capacity charges on suppliers, reducing savings for customers.

We all know competition works. That's why we always shop for lower prices. We should let competition work for electricity too.

Please reject or modify AEP's revised Electric Security Plan and preserve my right to shop to save money on my electric bill.

QUESTION DESCRIPTION:

when is puc going to stop aep from gouging us any longer. how much money do they need to make?
how many more loans will be given to them so they can in turn raise our rates again?
