COMMENT DESCRIPTION:

I am writing concerning Case #12-1230-EL-SSO and the elimination of the RGC Credit starting in 2013.

As an owner of an all-electric home, I feel this is very unfair to us. Why should we be penalized for having a home that was built as all-electric long before we purchased it. Has the credit issue been brought to our attention over 20 years ago, we might have had second thoughts.

Also, to now know our electric rates will be going up 31% over three years is outrageous. There is no competition for electricity, so we have no where to go to find lower rates. Nothing today increases that much in three years.

We bought our home thinking we were doing good in saving the country from using up gas. Now this. Please don't allow this credit to go away. Our income and the economy will suffer greatly.
