FILING REQUIRED BY PUCO RULING TO MAKE PUBLIC CERTAIN INFORMATION IN OCC’S TESTIMONY OF JAMES GOULD PREVIOUSLY
SUBMITTED UNDER SEAL OF CONFIDENTIALITY
BY THE OFFICE OF THE OHIO CONSUMERS’ COUNSEL

On February 19, 2013, the Office of the Ohio Consumers’ Counsel (“OCC”) filed the testimony of seven witnesses in the above-captioned proceedings. The testimony of Mr. James E. Gould on behalf of OCC included information that Duke Energy Ohio alleged to be confidential. In accordance with OCC’s confidentiality agreement with Duke and Duke’s claim of confidentiality, OCC filed a confidential version of Mr. Gould’s testimony under seal, accompanied by a motion for a protective order. OCC also filed a public version of Mr. Gould’s testimony with the allegedly confidential information obscured from view.

At the hearing held in these proceedings on April 3, 2013, the Attorney Examiners made inquiry to the counsel for Duke regarding whether some of the information that had been redacted from Mr. Gould’s testimony should be made public.

The Attorney Examiners then determined that one of the columns in Schedule JEG-C-3.8a, which had been accorded confidential treatment in the public version of Mr. Gould's testimony, is not confidential and should be made public.¹ The Attorney Examiners directed OCC to file a new redacted version of Schedule JEG-C-3.8a, with the information in the one column to be made public.²

In response to the Attorney Examiners' directive, OCC files the attached revised public version of Schedule JEG-C-3.8a.

Respectfully submitted,
