Case No. 13-1116-TP-COI

AT&T OHIO'S MOTION FOR AN EXTENSION OF TIME

AT&T Ohio¹, by its attorney, and pursuant to section 4901-1-13 of the Commission's rules, moves for an extension of time of 30 days within which to comply with the Entry adopted on December 4, 2013 in the captioned case. That Entry noted the requirement for all eligible telecommunications carriers ("ETCs") to submit lifeline recertification and aggregated supporting data to the FCC and the Universal Service Administrative Company by January 31, 2014. The Entry directed the ETCs to provide the same information to this Commission by the same date.

AT&T completed last year's Lifeline recertification process and has prepared the results from that effort. Unfortunately, it is unable at this time to report these results on FCC Form 555. This year, providers are to report the number of Lifeline subscribers claimed on their February 2013 FCC Form 497 filings.² AT&T is currently in the process of revising its FCC Forms 497, including its February 2013 FCC Forms 497, and, as a result, cannot populate this column of FCC Form 555 (or other columns of this form that incorporate the February 2013 figures) until those revisions are complete. AT&T is making these revisions because it learned last month of some discrepancies with its FCC Forms 497. AT&T is working diligently to resolve these discrepancies and file revised FCC Forms 497.

For the foregoing reasons, an extension of time of 30 days is therefore requested.

Respectfully submitted,

AT&T OHIO
