Re: Case No. 13-1141-GE-RDR

Dear Ms. McNeal:

On April 9, 2014, a Public Utilities Commission of Ohio ("Commission") Opinion and Order accepted a Stipulation and Recommendation in this docket. Direct Energy was the only party to oppose the Stipulation. Direct Energy Services, LLC and Direct Energy Business, LLC ("Direct Energy") file this letter to inform the Commission that Direct Energy is not filing an Application for Rehearing of the Commission's Opinion and Order.

Direct Energy looks forward to continuing a review of Duke Energy Ohio's master data management systems ("MDMS") and policies in the tariff reviews ordered in docket 12-3151-EL-COI. Direct Energy encourages the Commission to take a hard look at the concerns raised by Direct Energy in this case. Duke Energy Ohio should be commended for executing its plans for a full rollout of advanced metering infrastructure ("AMI") across its territory, but there are significant details and problems related to customer data management that need resolved in order for customers to realize the full benefits of the meters they paid for and continue to pay for in the riders approved in this case. Direct Energy believes suppliers will eagerly provide customers with products utilizing the advanced capabilities of AMI meters once these issues are resolved and encourages the Commission to move quickly to resolve these issues for the benefit of customers.

Sincerely,

/s/ Joseph M. Clark
