Dear Public Utilities Commission,

PUCO

Please deny the rate increase to lock consumers into buying power from Ohio's oldest, dirtiest coal plants. My family and I care about reducing toxic pollution and saving money on our electric bills because clean air affects everyone, including our children. A bailout of old, polluting technology only benefits utility shareholders and delays inevitable investment in efficiency and renewable energy

Case # 14-1297-EL-SSO

Dear Members of PUCO,

Thank you for denying Duke Energy their bail out request to allow their poor planning to be corrected with consumer money.

Cleaner energy has been a part of the discussion for quite some time now so it should come as no surprise to traditional energy companies that they needed to get on board with creating more environmentally safe processes and energy sources.

Please continue your stance with your ruling on First Energy, case number 14-1297-EL-SSO.

They also need to be held accountable for their lack of fiscal planning for such changes as well.

Sincerely,
Marilyn Zepich

Please deny the PUCO

increases of Duke Energy, AEP

+ First Energy to bail out their old technology. As deregulated companies I believe they should be held to the same standards

as my husband's ^{small} business — which have received zero dollars from the government.

Please say "NO" to FirstEnergy's pending rate case. Also, reinstate the 2009 mandate that forced power companies to help their customers use less power by buying energy efficiency technologies. Our solar panels were installed in June but are still not hooked up to their grid.

Coal and nuclear plant bailouts are a bad idea.
FirstEnergy Corp. wants Ohio to re-regulate the electric utility industry, hoping to end an era the company itself fought for just seven years ago
