Dear Representatives of the Public Utilities Commission of Ohio,

Please do everything in your power to prevent the FirstEnergy Bailout

- Please deny the rate increase to lock consumers into buying power from Ohio's oldest, dirtiest coal plants
- I care about this issue because a bailout of old, polluting technology only benefits utility shareholders and delays inevitable investment in efficiency and renewable energy.

The case number for FirstEnergy is 14-1297-EL-SSO.

Pls deny the rate increase to lock consumers into buying power from OH's old dirty coal plants

Pls oppose an "indefinite freeze" of our clean energy standards.

A blanket of old, polluting technology only benefits utility shareholders + delays investment in efficiency +

Governor:

Please don't pass the rate increase to force us into buying power from the coal plants. Please consider investing in efficient and renewable energy because we care about reducing toxic pollution and very much care about saving money on our electric bills!

Please do whatever you can to limit pollution to our air and water. This I think would decrease our health care costs of people who become sick from these things. Specific bills to pay attention to are 14-1297-EL-SSO and 14-1693-EL-SSO.

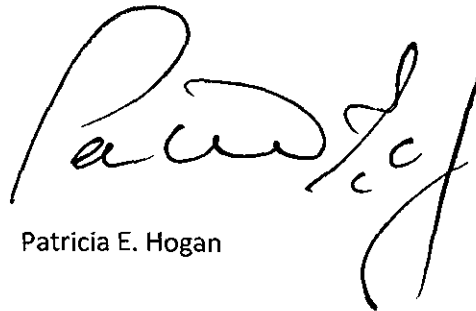

Thanks for your help!

Sir/Madam,

Transitioning Ohio's energy infrastructure from carbon based sources to non-carbon sources is extremely important to our family.

We realize this may cause job losses in certain sectors, but this is a small price to pay to protect the planet from the unknown consequences of runaway climate change.

Please divert all resources from subsidies/incentives for carbon based energy and provide them to carbon-free options.

I wanted to express my concern that Ohio's policies encourage continued use of old, dirty energy sources and does not adequately support new clean energy technologies. I would like to ask that you take the following actions in order to reverse this course of action and insure the health and safety of Ohio's residences now and in the future.

Please deny any rate increases to lock consumers into buying power from Ohio's oldest, dirtiest coal plants.

Please oppose any freeze to new clean energy standards

Any bailout of old, polluting energy only benefit utility shareholders and delays investment in clean efficient, clean and renewable energy sources.

Subject: Indefinite Freeze of our clean energy standards.

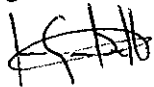

Dear ^{His} Governor:

We were invited to write this letter to you by the Ohio Citizen Action out of their concern for several measures and practices that may be compromising the environment. In particular the bailouts that more pollutant sources of energy such as coal and other fossil fuel combustion power plants may obtain and therefore the perpetuation of an environmental problem for current and future generations.

However is the indefinite freeze of our clean energy standards that concerns us most. Keeping status quo on emissions, efficiency, use of alternative sources of energy among others, eliminates the incentive to find better ways to provide energy for homes, business and industries.

I invite you to assume a leadership role to face the challenge of massive , cleaner and more affordable sources of energy.

RE: Case number 14-1297-EL-SSO

Dear Commissioners:

I am very concerned that you are considering the possibility of having utility rate payers engage in a non bypassable charge to pay for First Energy, Duke, and AEP to fix their inefficient coal plants in Ohio. These companies make a profit and pay dividends to shareholders. It is unfair and unjust to make ratepayers pickup the tab to fix their plants. These companies should have planned better and invested more of their profits into their assets. Do not lay this issue on the wallets of the rate payers. Rate payers are willing to pay fair prices for utilities, but not be forced to pay for some companies failure to properly upgrade and maintain their power plants.

Regarding: First Energy case number 14-1297-EL-SSO

Dear Committee Members,

Hello. I am Francesca Annis. I am 11 years old and I go to St. Ursula Villa. I heard that you are discussing the request from First Energy to increase the rate to lock consumers into buying power from Ohio's oldest, dirtiest, coal plants. I am going to tell you three ways why this will not benefit our beautiful state. First, coal mining is dangerous. If someone gets hurt and their insurance doesn't pay for the damage, the person could file a lawsuit. Second, Coal mining destroys the environment around where the coal is being mined. Most to nearly all of the time coal is mined, the area around where it was mined is dirty, polluted, and the ground is torn up. Lastly, mining from the old, dirty coal plants could, like I mentioned before, hurt workers. Dirtier coal plants may put miners at greater risk of Black Lung Disease. I had finished studying about the advantages and disadvantages of coal mining recently, so I was interested in writing this letter to you so you can help make the right choice for our state as a whole. Please consider this letter in your decision-making.

Sincerely,

It is high time that we turn our focus away from constantly supporting the coal industry (and other nonrenewable resources) via unfair economic policy. Please stop the bailouts supporting coal plants and end the freeze of our clean energy standards *

I have visited wind farms in NW Ohio that were started when Ohio was offering incentives. These communities say that the growth in the wind energy industry will not continue under current conditions. No new wind turbines.

Look forward, not back! Make Ohio relevant to the future.

Dear Public Utilities Commission of Ohio,

I am a resident of Cincinnati writing to you about case numbers 14-1297-EL-SSO and 14-1693-EL-SSO, which refer to the pending bailout of Ohio Valley Electric Corporation's coal plants. You must reconsider this action. This bailout of old polluting technology only benefits utility shareholders and special interest groups, and also delays needed investment in renewable energy. You need to show leadership and bring Ohio out of the 1950s and into the 21st century. We need to end our dependence on coal to reduce air and groundwater pollution, which will prevent many unnecessary premature deaths of our fellow Ohioans. Our families need you to do the right thing. Thank you very much.

Sincerely,

PUCO,

I'm a concerned citizen of Ohio.

I would encourage you to deny the rate increase that helps to bailout old, polluting coal technology. Let's put our resources toward renewable energy!

Dear PUCO,

Please deny the rate increase to lock consumers into buying power from Ohio's dirtiest, oldest coal plants.

I have 3 young child. We all have allergies and I am sure it is from our environment, decreasing the amount of healthy air we breath.

I never had allergy issues growing up and it all started as an adult when I moved to Cincinnati.

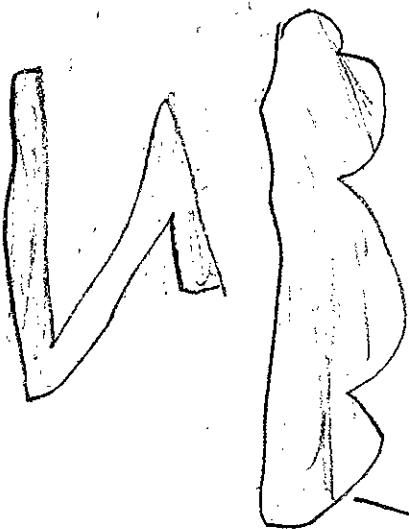

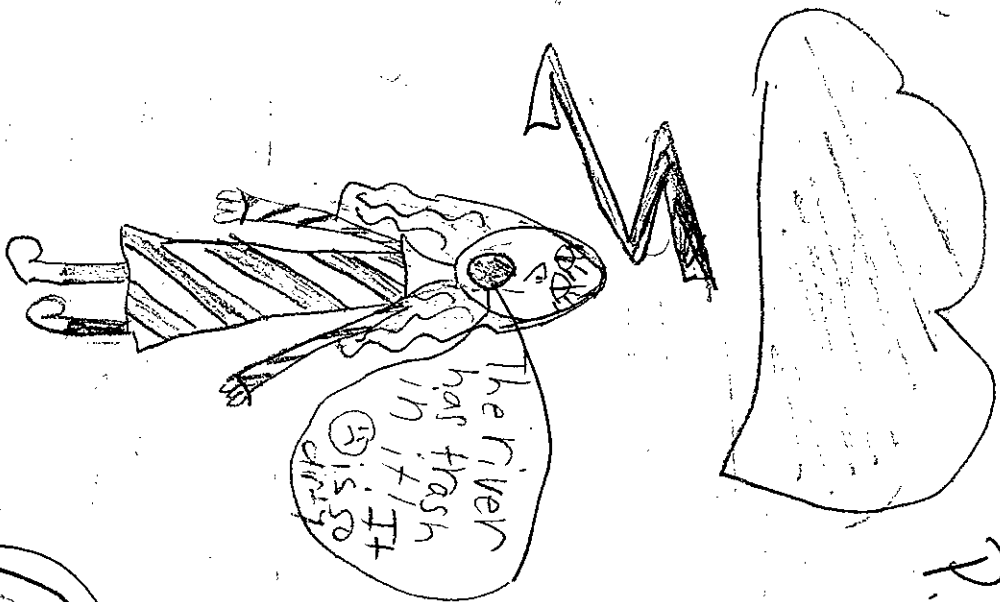

Many families struggle to pay bills. As a stay at home mom to my 3 young children, I have to budget my expenses so I can live in a nice area and give my kids a good education. Increasing gas and electric bills do not help.

Let's be the change, be the leaders. For our kids.

Dear Commission staff and Commissioners:

Global warming is here and progressing faster than anticipated. The time has come for everyone to clean up their acts, including companies operating old coal plants in Ohio with dirty, outdated technology. We cannot delay action to hold them accountable any longer.

FirstEnergy should not be allowed to continue its polluting ways (see case number 14-1297-EL-SSO). Taxpayers should not have to pay higher rates that will enable the continuation of inefficient operations and will cost taxpayers more money. PUCO needs to deny FirstEnergy's bailout request.

Ohio citizens like me ask you to take action that will deny rate increases to FirstEnergy and any other companies that lacked vision and now want to make consumers pay for their failure to clean up their acts; will make our environment cleaner; will promote efficient and renewable energy sources; will help us save money on our electric bills; and will ensure clean air and the future of our children.

Thank you very much.

Sincerely,

I'm writing in regards to Case Records 14-1297-EL-SSO and 14-1693-EL-SSO. As a concerned citizen of Ohio I'm asking you to do all in you power to stop these from becoming a reality. The rate increase to lock us into buying power from outdated coal plants and the bailout of companies that use old, polluting technology are not good for the future of Ohio and the rest of the planet. I care very much about reducing pollution and certainly don't wish to pay more for utilities because private companies makes poor decisions in their business operations. You can help make Ohio and the rest of the world a better place if you make the right choice here.

Thank you for your attention to these pressing matters.

I care deeply about reducing toxic pollutants as well as saving money on my electric bills.

Limiting pollution in our state promotes healthier lifestyles for everyone, including my children.

Re: Clean Energy for Ohio

Dear PUCO,

I am writing this letter to urge you be attentive to the voices of those who have nothing but good intentions to have clean air in not only Ohio but the entire world, starting one state at a time.

Please deny the rate increase so the cost doesn't shift to the consumer to update Ohio's oldest, dirties coal plant.

Please oppose the 'indefinite freeze' of our clean energy standards. This will allow taxpayers to save money and use it instead towards renewable energy options.

Reducing our dependence on coal for electricity reduces the Mercury and other contaminants from getting into our soil.

This vicious cycle of moving slower than a snail for change to occur is not necessary. We can make a difference NOW. Please help make a difference for our communities and become a model state for the rest of the country.

Thank you,

Renee Loftspring

Dear Public Utilities Commission of Ohio,
I am a citizen in Cincinnati Ohio and am very concerned about our continued usage of coal plants. With the amount of clean energy options available I find it appalling that we are still using such archaic fuel sources.

Using alternative fuel source could also reduce our pollution in Cincinnati. If we can reduce pollution then a lot of contamination related problems could be fixed at a better pace, possibly leaving my generation with a foreseeable future.

I understand that fixing problems such as these are quite time consuming tasks. I would just like to reaffirm my and plenty of my communities stand points on this particular issue.

Thank you for your time.

RE: STOP THE BAILOUTS FOR COAL PLANTS – END THE FREEZE ON CLEAN ENERGY STANDARDS

Dear PUCO:

Please deny the rate increase that allows utility companies with a bailout of old, polluting technologies. This only serves to delay much needed investments in more efficient forms of energy, including renewable energy.

We need our lawmakers to stop the indefinite freeze of Ohio clean energy standards. It's clear this freeze is a backdoor way for utility companies to avoid doing the right thing. It is embarrassing to see Ohio cities listed at the top for 'worst air quality.' This is simply unhealthy and unnecessary.

Now is the time for leadership. We are counting on you to do the right thing. Stop these bailouts and institute Ohio clean energy standards.

Governor Kasich & PUCO

To date I have been a fan of your leadership, especially your willingness to take on union benefit costs and working to balance Ohio's budget.

I hope you have the energy and gumption to focus on a strategy to lessen pollution to our air and water. I am really concerned by reports of toxic algae in our rivers and now the great Lakes. We do all we can in our house to reduce, reuse and recycle. We have supported Ohio Citizen Action for years. Please consider the position of moving toward renewable clean energy. Industry needs to move forward with smarter solutions and this may require a government push ~~reases~~ enabling with freezes on clean energy standards. I realize there are a lot of special interests with competing agendas. The long term goal should be a better, cleaner environment.

Dear Governor Kasich

I was so impressed by the recent canvasser, Emily from Ohio Citizen Action. They (OCA) are knocking on doors and sharing concerns with local neighbors about what's going on in Ohio as it relates to clean energy and the legislation that may impact the health and safety of our children for years to come. More importantly, they are calling all Ohio citizens to act on what we know are important issues, but are not sure how to get started. Just like it is no small task to knock on doors, it takes courage to step up and make sound choices about the long term decisions that will shape the future of our state, even if those choices are not obvious or easy.

Please consider these points as it relates to Ohio's beautiful environment that is threatened by continuing to support coal. My family cares about reducing toxic pollution and saving money on electric bills. Reducing dependency on coal for electricity reduces mercury and other contaminants from polluting Lake Erie, where so many families flock to for tourism, and the Ohio River, on which I've enjoyed being a participant of Paddlefest.

Please oppose the "indefinite freeze" of clean energy standards, please deny the rate increases to lock consumers into buying power from Ohio's oldest, dirtiest coal plants (have you seen the solar arrays at the zoo? Imagine neighborhoods with solar arrays and smart meter grids that could wean us off coal once and for all.

Thank you for listening to your Ohio citizens, and thank you for considering making the right choices to move to renewable energy resources. If we knew we weren't paying for cheap coal, and instead using energy sourced on our roof or through renewable sources, I think we would be confident that Ohio was moving in the right direction and making the right, but not easy choices to plan for a better tomorrow.

Re: FirstEnergy 14-1297-EL-SSO

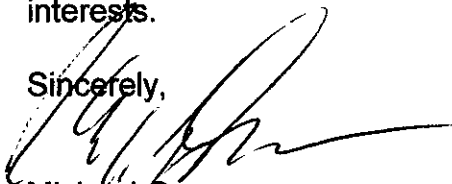

Dear Governor Kasich,

I write because I am very concerned about the effect on Ohio's environment if the above-referenced request to have a "Purchased Power Agreement" is approved. Please urge denial of the request for a rate increase to lock our citizens into buying power from Ohio's oldest and dirtiest coal plants.

My entire family cares about reducing toxic pollution. It is a tremendous financial drain on our economy because it results in significant and wide-spread health problems resulting in money being spent on medical treatment which could otherwise be spent for much more productive family purposes. In addition, the savings that would result in our electric bills would be better spent helping our general economy because it would provide disposable income that would be available for the purchase of retail goods and services – helping the small business owners who make up the backbone of Ohio's economy. To allow this request to pass will deprive Ohio of the necessary funds to invest in efficient and renewable energy.

Please do all you can to stop this attempt to maintain a status quo of polluting Ohio at the expense of the general population for the benefit of a few. I look forward to hearing that you put Ohio first instead of the electric energy companies' private interests.

Sincerely,

Michael Ganson

To Governor John Kasich,

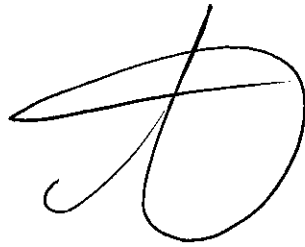

Having spent some time working for a large energy provider, I understand moving away / cleaning up coal power is a difficult and time consuming process. That is why I believe it is imperative to start taking steps now, so that future generations can have a leg up on the problem.

Dear Govenor Kasich,

I am writing to request for you to take action to please:

- Deny rate increases to lock consumers into buying power from Ohio's oldest, outdated, and aging coal plants
- Oppose an "indefinite freeze" of our clean energy standards. We can be conservative in our direction to make solid decisions, but we do not need to stop in our tracks in doing so! See second to last point below.
- Bailouts of outdated infrastructure and technology is a step in the wrong direction and is only a band-aid
 - We need to be progressive and fund solid initiatives towards a clean energy future
- Other states and even countries are already on their way to a cleaner future. We should use working examples to expedite our use of clean and renewable resources/energy. We should not have to reinvent the wheel nor reinvent studies that have already been done.
 - Maybe we can be an example for other states around the nation
 - Maybe we can be an example in the global initiative to protect our environment
 - Maybe we can be the standard that other states or nations look up to
 - Maybe we can consult and collaborate with other organizations that would like to do the same and use any funding from those consultations to help support fixing other older and outdated infrastructure so we can take care of the place (Ohio) we call home
- There are more wins to gain from supporting clean energy standards: reduce pollution and protecting our environment for generations to come please reduce our dependence on coal for electricity, reduce mercury and other contamination from polluting drinking water from Lake Erie and the Ohio River. My family and I care about saving money on our electric bills.

Please refer to case numbers: 14-1297-EL-SSO and 14-1693-EL-SSO.

A bailout of old, polluting technology only benefits utility shareholders and delays investment in efficiency and renewable energy. As new sources of power are implemented, new jobs are created along with a cleaner source of fuel. Limiting pollution to our air and water leads to fewer deaths and sicknesses for everyone inside and outside Ohio. Please consider everyone's health!

Governor Kasich and PUCO members

Please address the issues related to the Ohio clean energy standards. The freeze of the standards only aids the energy companies and increases their profits. The long term impacts are not acceptable and need to be remedied. Technology exists today to improve standards and the quality of life for future generations. Please ensure it is a requirement.

Locking consumers into the aging technology through a rate increase is not acceptable. Bailing out the companies supporting the aging infrastructure is not supported by the community.

Case No. 14-1297-EL-SSO

14-1693-EL-SSO

To whom it may concern,

As a taxpaying citizen, I ask you: please, help us end our dependence on coal. I know our state needs jobs as badly as any other, but our continued exploitation of bituminous coal deposits only serves to harm our great state in the long term. It corrupts our other wonderful natural resources and makes them unusable, even things as vital as the air we breath and the water we drink. Acid rain kills crop yields and it is a direct result of our coal burning power plants. Mine tailings toxify our rivers, streams, and the very water table our state is built upon. We must stop this destruction of our natural resources, stop trading these short terms benefits for long term gain. This is an opportunity for us, as a state, to lead the country in creating a better, healthier world. End the freeze on our emissions standards. Reignite the competition that drives fair pricing and higher standards by relinquishing the subsidies that prop up a failing industry. I implore you, make the choice: begin the process of bringing new energy and new life to the state of Ohio.

Thank you for your time,

I am writing to express my concerns over the freezes on Ohio's clean energy standards since 2014. As a taxpayer and energy user in the state of Ohio I would like to have the clean energy standards back in full force. I feel these standards represent what I stand for and not what big business has negotiated with lawmakers. My family and I want to reduce toxic pollution at the same time saving money on our electric bills.

I also request that lawmakers:

- Deny the rate increases to lock consumers into buying energy from older inefficient coal burning plants
- Oppose any indefinite freeze on clean energy standards
- Create new laws that reduce our dependencies on electricity that is depended on coal generated electricity

Enacting new legislation backed by the clean energy standards will reduce mercury and other contaminants from our water supplies. It will lead to cleaner air and fewer deaths, sickness and other illnesses that sap our already burdened health care system.

Thanks,

Dear Public Utilities Commission,

Please oppose an "indefinite freeze" of our clean energy standards. A bailout of old, polluting technology only benefits utility share holders, and delays investment in efficiency and renewable energy. Retire outdated plants and invest in cleaner and more cost-efficient technologies, such as energy efficiency, solar, and wind.

Utilities making major investments in pollution control equipment will keep a coal-burning plant running another 30 to 50 years—subjecting our region to dangerous levels of carbon emissions for generations to come. Coal burning also generates vast quantities of coal ash waste that contains dangerous heavy metals—toxic pollution that is often stored in unlined pits on or near the plant sites. Many of these sites leak—some silently seep into our rivers and groundwater; some fail catastrophically, like the Kingston spill of 2008 or Dan River in 2014.

There are smarter choices about how we generate energy in our region. Better choices improve public health by reducing pollution in our air and water, leading to fewer deaths and sickness for everyone, inside and outside of Ohio. Reducing our dependence on coal for electricity decreases mercury and other contamination from polluting drinking water from Lake Erie and the Ohio River.

Please deny the rate increase to lock consumers into buying power from Ohio's oldest dirtiest coal plants.
