COMMENT DESCRIPTION:

I read ohio Edison is asking for another rate increase. They have plenty of money-executive compensation is excessive-reduce cost here! Seniors such as myself that own an all electric home with baseboard heat and living on a fixed income are trapped. Baseboard heat cannot be converted to gas(no duct work). Competition among electric companies amounts to pennies in savings. Are there and discounts beyond those being offered (you elected to reduce and eventually eliminate one discount) that would apply to seniors living in an all electric home and on a fixed income that is above poverty level($15,000 for 2 people) There is no way customers fitting my profile can absorb these huge increases. A promise was broken to all electric home owners when PUCO allowed Ohio Edison to renig on their promises. thanks
