COMMENT DESCRIPTION:

I have heard a number of news stories about the electric companies and the proposed power purchase fee that could be passed along to consumers. I can't think of a business industry where the cost of purposefully keeping old, inefficient plants is passed along to consumers so boldly. I couldn't mind an increase in fees if the companies were putting that money to improving the efficiency and sustainability of the old coal burning plants. However, ensuring their profitability is not my job as a consumer.

COMMENT DESCRIPTION:

I am appalled that you are about to approve a subsidy that will cost Ohio consumers $487 million a year to subsidize bad management and bad decisions at the state level and at FirstEnergy. I do not want this to be approved and I want Ohio to invest in updated, clean energy facilities, not prop up old, obsolete ones.
