We agree that the customers of First Energy should not have to pay higher rates to help First Energy run outdated and non-competitive coal burning plants, please file a comment on the PUCO website telling them to deny First Energy's request-Case number 14-1297-EL-SSO. First Energy's rate increase will have an economic impact on our citizens. Please do all you can to tell PUCO that First Energy customers should not have to pay for the poor business decisions that First Energy made in the past. First Energy should be looking forward to invest in renewable forms of energy that will not pollute the air we breathe. We need clean, renewable power from sources other than coal. Its time to save future lives and our environment.

Members of the PUCO,

Re: Case # 14-1297-EL-SSO

In light of all scientific evidence to the contrary, are you really going to lead Ohio on a last ditch effort to use obsolete, environment-destroying sources of energy like coal powered plants, further polluting the air and leaving our children to deal with the affects of climate change? Do you really want this to be your legacy?

As a parent myself, I'd like to reduce our dependence on toxic pollutants, save our drinking water from contaminates and lead the way to a better, greener future.

Opposing an "indefinite freeze" on clean energy standards is backwards and show a lack of vision and bailouts of this outdated methods display a moral cowardice. I know you can do better. I know we can do better.

Dear members of PUCO,

Please support denying the request to bailout FirstEnergy (Case # 14-1297-EL-SSO). The rate increase will continue to lock consumers into buying power from Ohio's, oldest, dirtiest coal plants. I have already experienced the loss of my husband because of leukemia from environmental exposure. Why would anyone support toxic pollution? As someone with a limited budget due to this loss, I cannot see the point of my electric bills increasing to support bailing out such a system. It's time to look to a future that protects the health of this state's citizens.

Thank you,
