To whom this may concern:

I wish to contest the charges that I was wrongly wrote for.

First the seatbelt charge, I had my seatbelt on when the dot officer pulled me over and because the seatbelt was worn it didn't fit properly, more like an oversized seatbelt. Secondly I have a valid dot medical card, the company I worked for had it in their possession because after my dot physical in December it was mailed to their office and every time I requested it they said it would on my desk and even after I was pulled over in April they still never sent it to me, but the faithfully assigned my route daily M-. And lastly driving under a suspension, I was not aware that happened to me because my insurance is electronically debited out my account monthly. And the insurance company apologized be their system went down and it was down for 48 hours, I'm very busy but if a time can be set aside anytime on a Friday I will gladly verbally challenge these charges brought against me.

Kind regards

Tony Ford

4. Codes, Violation Groups, and Forfeiture Amounts

"Code" in this notice identifies the rule that was violated. Numbers in a 100 or 300 series refer to specific sections of the Hazardous Materials Regulations or the Federal Motor Carrier Safety Regulations located in Title 49 of the Code of Federal Regulations (C.F.R.). Some section numbers may have suffixes beyond those which appear in the C.F.R. These are used for internal data collection purposes. Codes in other formats refer to violations of Ohio's statutes or regulations.

"Violation Group" identifies the numerical group (1-4) of the violation for purposes of calculating the civil forfeiture. Section 4923.99, Ohio Revised Code, authorizes the Public Utilities Commission of Ohio to assess a civil forfeiture of up to $25,000 for each day of each violation. The amount of any forfeiture depends upon the nature, gravity, circumstances, and extent of the violation, the offender's degree of culpability for the violation, and the offender's history of violations. "Total Amount Due" is the total amount of the civil forfeiture assessed for all violations described in this notice.
