COMMENT DESCRIPTION:

No storm. No high winds. Electric goes off. Small storm, electric goes off. This is deplorable service. Yet PUCCO lets DP&L raise rates. No power line maintenance for years. Trimming trees after not doing so for ten years passed onto the consumer. This stinks. You are not protecting anyone except for the blue chip stock holders. The cost of maintenance should come from the cost of doing business. Can't do that though can we? After all, the investors would get a smaller dividend check. No business like PUCCO Sincerely, Janet
