

LARGE FILING SEPARATOR SHEET

CASE NUMBER: 17-1948-TP-WNC

FILE DATE: 08/30/18

SECTION: PART 7 of 7

FILED BY: T. DIXON

FILED ON BEHALF OF: PROGRESS OHIO

NUMBER OF PAGES: 135

DESCRIPTION OF DOCUMENT: PUBLIC COMMENTS

"After making $2.1 billion from the December corporate tax cut, AT&T wants to abandon Ohioans by withdrawing from the Lifeline program.

AT&T Ohio's withdrawal would affect over 10,000 customers, including those in low-income households, the elderly, and our veterans. It is despicable that AT&T would throw Ohioans in need under the bus, especially at a time when their profits are skyrocketing.

Approving AT&T's request would signal that companies can rake in billions of dollars from taxpayers while abandoning its own customers. PUCO should block AT&T Ohio's attempt to leave the Lifeline program.

Sincerely,

A concerned Ohioan

"

James, Cuyahoga

"After making $2.1 billion from the December corporate tax cut, AT&T wants to abandon Ohioans by withdrawing from the Lifeline program.

AT&T Ohio's withdrawal would affect over 10,000 customers, including those in low-income households, the elderly, and our veterans. It is despicable that AT&T would throw Ohioans in need under the bus, especially at a time when their profits are skyrocketing.

Approving AT&T's request would signal that companies can rake in billions of dollars from taxpayers while abandoning its own customers. PUCO should block AT&T Ohio's attempt to leave the Lifeline program.

Sincerely,

A concerned Ohioan

"

Jeanne and Vern, Cuyahoga

"After making $2.1 billion from the December corporate tax cut, AT&T wants to abandon Ohioans by withdrawing from the Lifeline program; this is as unacceptable as it is callous.

AT&T Ohio's withdrawal would affect over 10,000 customers, including those in low-income households, the elderly, and our veterans. One of these customers is a close friend who is disabled, unwell, and living on a very meagre income; her life would be put at risk by AT&T Ohio's proposed withdrawal.

It is bad enough that AT&T would consider abandoning Ohioans in need at all; doing so at a time when their profits are skyrocketing is simply beyond the pale.

Approving AT&T's request would send a clear signal that companies can rake in billions of dollars from taxpayers while abandoning their own customers. PUCO should block AT&T Ohio's attempt to leave the Lifeline program.

Sincerely,

A concerned Ohioan"

Brian, Cuyahoga

"After making $2.1 billion from the December corporate tax cut, AT&T wants to abandon Ohioans by withdrawing from the Lifeline program.

AT&T Ohio's withdrawal would affect over 10,000 customers, including those in low-income households, the elderly, and our veterans. It is despicable that AT&T would throw Ohioans in need under the bus, especially at a time when their profits are skyrocketing.

Approving AT&T's request would signal that companies can rake in billions of dollars from taxpayers while abandoning its own customers. PUCO should block AT&T Ohio's attempt to leave the Lifeline program.

Sincerely,

A concerned Ohioan

"

John, Cuyahoga

“After making $2.1 billion from the December corporate tax cut, AT&T wants to abandon Ohioans by withdrawing from the Lifeline program.

AT&T Ohio's withdrawal would affect over 10,000 customers, including those in low-income households, the elderly, and our veterans. It is despicable that AT&T would throw Ohioans in need under the bus, especially at a time when their profits are skyrocketing.

Approving AT&T's request would signal that companies can rake in billions of dollars from taxpayers while abandoning its own customers. PUCO should block AT&T Ohio's attempt to leave the Lifeline program.

Sincerely,

A concerned Ohioan

”

Leo, Cuyahoga

"After making $2.1 billion from the December corporate tax cut, AT&T wants to abandon Ohioans by withdrawing from the Lifeline program.

AT&T Ohio's withdrawal would affect over 10,000 customers, including those in low-income households, the elderly, and our veterans. It is despicable that AT&T would throw Ohioans in need under the bus, especially at a time when their profits are skyrocketing.

Approving AT&T's request would signal that companies can rake in billions of dollars from taxpayers while abandoning its own customers. PUCO should block AT&T Ohio's attempt to leave the Lifeline program.

Sincerely,

A concerned Ohioan

"

Heidi, Cuyahoga

"After making $2.1 billion from the December corporate tax cut, AT&T wants to abandon Ohioans by withdrawing from the Lifeline program.

AT&T Ohio's withdrawal would affect over 10,000 customers, including those in low-income households, the elderly, and our veterans. It is despicable that AT&T would throw Ohioans in need under the bus, especially at a time when their profits are skyrocketing.

Approving AT&T's request would signal that companies can rake in billions of dollars from taxpayers while abandoning its own customers. PUCO should block AT&T Ohio's attempt to leave the Lifeline program.

Sincerely,

A concerned Ohioan

"

Linda, Cuyahoga

"After making $2.1 billion from the December corporate tax cut, AT&T wants to abandon Ohioans by withdrawing from the Lifeline program.

AT&T Ohio's withdrawal would affect over 10,000 customers, including those in low-income households, the elderly, and our veterans. It is despicable that AT&T would throw Ohioans in need under the bus, especially at a time when their profits are skyrocketing.

Approving AT&T's request would signal that companies can rake in billions of dollars from taxpayers while abandoning its own customers. PUCO should block AT&T Ohio's attempt to leave the Lifeline program.

Sincerely,

A concerned Ohioan

"

Joyce, Cuyahoga

"After making $2.1 billion from the December corporate tax cut, AT&T wants to abandon Ohioans by withdrawing from the Lifeline program.

AT&T Ohio's withdrawal would affect over 10,000 customers, including those in low-income households, the elderly, and our veterans. It is despicable that AT&T would throw Ohioans in need under the bus, especially at a time when their profits are skyrocketing.

Approving AT&T's request would signal that companies can rake in billions of dollars from taxpayers while abandoning its own customers. PUCO should block AT&T Ohio's attempt to leave the Lifeline program.

Sincerely,

A concerned Ohioan

"

Steven, Cuyahoga

"After making $2.1 billion from the December corporate tax cut, AT&T wants to abandon Ohioans by withdrawing from the Lifeline program.

AT&T Ohio's withdrawal would affect over 10,000 customers, including those in low-income households, the elderly, and our veterans. It is despicable that AT&T would throw Ohioans in need under the bus, especially at a time when their profits are skyrocketing.

Approving AT&T's request would signal that companies can rake in billions of dollars from taxpayers while abandoning its own customers. PUCO should block AT&T Ohio's attempt to leave the Lifeline program.

Sincerely,

A concerned Ohioan

"

Walter, Cuyahoga

"After making $2.1 billion from the December corporate tax cut, AT&T wants to abandon Ohioans by withdrawing from the Lifeline program.

AT&T Ohio's withdrawal would affect over 10,000 customers, including those in low-income households, the elderly, and our veterans. It is despicable that AT&T would throw Ohioans in need under the bus, especially at a time when their profits are skyrocketing.

Approving AT&T's request would signal that companies can rake in billions of dollars from taxpayers while abandoning its own customers. PUCO should block AT&T Ohio's attempt to leave the Lifeline program.

Sincerely,

A concerned Ohioan

"

Goldrich, Cuyahoga

"After making $2.1 billion from the December corporate tax cut, AT&T wants to abandon Ohioans by withdrawing from the Lifeline program.

AT&T Ohio's withdrawal would affect over 10,000 customers, including those in low-income households, the elderly, and our veterans. It is despicable that AT&T would throw Ohioans in need under the bus, especially at a time when their profits are skyrocketing.

Approving AT&T's request would signal that companies can rake in billions of dollars from taxpayers while abandoning its own customers. PUCO should block AT&T Ohio's attempt to leave the Lifeline program.

Sincerely,

A concerned Ohioan

"

Cheryl, Cuyahoga

"After making $2.1 billion from the December corporate tax cut, AT&T wants to abandon Ohioans by withdrawing from the Lifeline program.

AT&T Ohio's withdrawal would affect over 10,000 customers, including those in low-income households, the elderly, and our veterans. It is despicable that AT&T would throw Ohioans in need under the bus, especially at a time when their profits are skyrocketing.

Approving AT&T's request would signal that companies can rake in billions of dollars from taxpayers while abandoning its own customers. PUCO should block AT&T Ohio's attempt to leave the Lifeline program.

Sincerely,

A concerned Ohioan

"

Penny, Cuyahoga

“After making $2.1 billion from the December corporate tax cut, AT&T wants to abandon Ohioans by withdrawing from the Lifeline program.

AT&T Ohio's withdrawal would affect over 10,000 customers, including those in low-income households, the elderly, and our veterans. It is despicable that AT&T would throw Ohioans in need under the bus, especially at a time when their profits are skyrocketing.

Approving AT&T's request would signal that companies can rake in billions of dollars from taxpayers while abandoning its own customers. PUCO should block AT&T Ohio's attempt to leave the Lifeline program.

Sincerely,

A concerned Ohioan

”

D, Cuyahoga

"After making $2.1 billion from the December corporate tax cut, AT&T wants to abandon Ohioans by withdrawing from the Lifeline program.

AT&T Ohio's withdrawal would affect over 10,000 customers, including those in low-income households, the elderly, and our veterans. It is despicable that AT&T would throw Ohioans in need under the bus, especially at a time when their profits are skyrocketing.

Approving AT&T's request would signal that companies can rake in billions of dollars from taxpayers while abandoning its own customers. PUCO should block AT&T Ohio's attempt to leave the Lifeline program.

Sincerely,

A concerned Ohioan

"

Alexis, Cuyahoga

"After making $2.1 billion from the December corporate tax cut, AT&T wants to abandon Ohioans by withdrawing from the Lifeline program.

AT&T Ohio's withdrawal would affect over 10,000 customers, including those in low-income households, the elderly, and our veterans. It is despicable that AT&T would throw Ohioans in need under the bus, especially at a time when their profits are skyrocketing.

Approving AT&T's request would signal that companies can rake in billions of dollars from taxpayers while abandoning its own customers. PUCO should block AT&T Ohio's attempt to leave the Lifeline program.

Sincerely,

A concerned Ohioan

"

Robert, Cuyahoga

“After making $2.1 billion from the December corporate tax cut, AT&T wants to abandon Ohioans by withdrawing from the Lifeline program.

AT&T Ohio's withdrawal would affect over 10,000 customers, including those in low-income households, the elderly, and our veterans. It is despicable that AT&T would throw Ohioans in need under the bus, especially at a time when their profits are skyrocketing.

Approving AT&T's request would signal that companies can rake in billions of dollars from taxpayers while abandoning its own customers. PUCO should block AT&T Ohio's attempt to leave the Lifeline program.

Sincerely,

A concerned Ohioan

”

Roland, Cuyahoga

“After making $2.1 billion from the December corporate tax cut, AT&T wants to abandon Ohioans by withdrawing from the Lifeline program.

AT&T Ohio's withdrawal would affect over 10,000 customers, including those in low-income households, the elderly, and our veterans. It is despicable that AT&T would throw Ohioans in need under the bus, especially at a time when their profits are skyrocketing.

Approving AT&T's request would signal that companies can rake in billions of dollars from taxpayers while abandoning its own customers. PUCO should block AT&T Ohio's attempt to leave the Lifeline program.

Sincerely,

A concerned Ohioan

”

Margaret, Cuyahoga

"After making $2.1 billion from the December corporate tax cut, AT&T wants to abandon Ohioans by withdrawing from the Lifeline program.

AT&T Ohio's withdrawal would affect over 10,000 customers, including those in low-income households, the elderly, and our veterans. It is despicable that AT&T would throw Ohioans in need under the bus, especially at a time when their profits are skyrocketing.

Approving AT&T's request would signal that companies can rake in billions of dollars from taxpayers while abandoning its own customers. PUCO should block AT&T Ohio's attempt to leave the Lifeline program.

Sincerely,

A concerned Ohioan

"

Nerissa, Cuyahoga

"After making $2.1 billion from the December corporate tax cut, AT&T wants to abandon Ohioans by withdrawing from the Lifeline program.

AT&T Ohio's withdrawal would affect over 10,000 customers, including those in low-income households, the elderly, and our veterans. It is despicable that AT&T would throw Ohioans in need under the bus, especially at a time when their profits are skyrocketing.

Approving AT&T's request would signal that companies can rake in billions of dollars from taxpayers while abandoning its own customers. PUCO should block AT&T Ohio's attempt to leave the Lifeline program.

Sincerely,

A concerned Ohioan

"

Laura, Cuyahoga

"After making $2.1 billion from the December corporate tax cut, AT&T wants to abandon Ohioans by withdrawing from the Lifeline program.

AT&T Ohio's withdrawal would affect over 10,000 customers, including those in low-income households, the elderly, and our veterans. It is despicable that AT&T would throw Ohioans in need under the bus, especially at a time when their profits are skyrocketing.

Approving AT&T's request would signal that companies can rake in billions of dollars from taxpayers while abandoning its own customers. PUCO should block AT&T Ohio's attempt to leave the Lifeline program.

Sincerely,

A concerned Ohioan

"

Emily, Cuyahoga

"After making $2.1 billion from the December corporate tax cut, AT&T wants to abandon Ohioans by withdrawing from the Lifeline program.

AT&T Ohio's withdrawal would affect over 10,000 customers, including those in low-income households, the elderly, and our veterans. It is despicable that AT&T would throw Ohioans in need under the bus, especially at a time when their profits are skyrocketing.

Approving AT&T's request would signal that companies can rake in billions of dollars from taxpayers while abandoning its own customers. PUCO should block AT&T Ohio's attempt to leave the Lifeline program.

Sincerely,

A concerned Ohioan

"

Park, Cuyahoga

"After making $2.1 billion from the December corporate tax cut, AT&T wants to abandon Ohioans by withdrawing from the Lifeline program.

AT&T Ohio's withdrawal would affect over 10,000 customers, including those in low-income households, the elderly, and our veterans. It is despicable that AT&T would throw Ohioans in need under the bus, especially at a time when their profits are skyrocketing.

Approving AT&T's request would signal that companies can rake in billions of dollars from taxpayers while abandoning its own customers. PUCO should block AT&T Ohio's attempt to leave the Lifeline program.

Sincerely,

A concerned Ohioan

"

Cynthia, Cuyahoga

"After making $2.1 billion from the December corporate tax cut, AT&T wants to abandon Ohioans by withdrawing from the Lifeline program.

AT&T Ohio's withdrawal would affect over 10,000 customers, including those in low-income households, the elderly, and our veterans. It is despicable that AT&T would throw Ohioans in need under the bus, especially at a time when their profits are skyrocketing.

Approving AT&T's request would signal that companies can rake in billions of dollars from taxpayers while abandoning its own customers. PUCO should block AT&T Ohio's attempt to leave the Lifeline program.

Sincerely,

A concerned Ohioan

"

Carol, Cuyahoga

"After making $2.1 billion from the December corporate tax cut, AT&T wants to abandon Ohioans by withdrawing from the Lifeline program.

AT&T Ohio's withdrawal would affect over 10,000 customers, including those in low-income households, the elderly, and our veterans. It is despicable that AT&T would throw Ohioans in need under the bus, especially at a time when their profits are skyrocketing.

Approving AT&T's request would signal that companies can rake in billions of dollars from taxpayers while abandoning its own customers. PUCO should block AT&T Ohio's attempt to leave the Lifeline program.

Sincerely,

A concerned Ohioan

"

Kevin, Cuyahoga

"After making $2.1 billion from the December corporate tax cut, AT&T wants to abandon Ohioans by withdrawing from the Lifeline program.

AT&T Ohio's withdrawal would affect over 10,000 customers, including those in low-income households, the elderly, and our veterans. It is despicable that AT&T would throw Ohioans in need under the bus, especially at a time when their profits are skyrocketing.

Approving AT&T's request would signal that companies can rake in billions of dollars from taxpayers while abandoning its own customers. PUCO should block AT&T Ohio's attempt to leave the Lifeline program.

Sincerely,

A concerned Ohioan

"

Alice, Cuyahoga

"I know that being able to communicate with the world is needed by every human being attempting to navigate modern life. People are isolated and need to communicate for reasons of health, transportation, and making arrangements for all the details of life. Elderly and disabled are in particular need of being able to seek help when needed.

After making $2.1 billion from the December corporate tax cut, AT&T wants to abandon Ohioans by withdrawing from the Lifeline program.

AT&T Ohio's withdrawal would affect over 10,000 customers, including those in low-income households, the elderly, and our veterans. It is despicable that AT&T would throw Ohioans in need under the bus, especially at a time when their profits are skyrocketing.

Approving AT&T's request would signal that companies can rake in billions of dollars from taxpayers while abandoning its own customers. PUCO should block AT&T Ohio's attempt to leave the Lifeline program.

Sincerely,

A concerned Ohioan

"

Susan, Cuyahoga

"After making $2.1 billion from the December corporate tax cut, AT&T wants to abandon Ohioans by withdrawing from the Lifeline program.

AT&T Ohio's withdrawal would affect over 10,000 customers, including those in low-income households, the elderly, and our veterans. It is despicable that AT&T would throw Ohioans in need under the bus, especially at a time when their profits are skyrocketing.

Approving AT&T's request would signal that companies can rake in billions of dollars from taxpayers while abandoning its own customers. PUCO should block AT&T Ohio's attempt to leave the Lifeline program.

Also - what about all the infrastructure we've been paying them for, they they just stopped putting in. Where is that money or discounts for citizens since they aren't putting in the equipment they promised. It's been decades!

Sincerely,

A concerned Ohioan

"

Deanna, Cuyahoga

"After making $2.1 billion from the December corporate tax cut, AT&T wants to abandon Ohioans by withdrawing from the Lifeline program.

AT&T Ohio's withdrawal would affect over 10,000 customers, including those in low-income households, the elderly, and our veterans. It is despicable that AT&T would throw Ohioans in need under the bus, especially at a time when their profits are skyrocketing.

Approving AT&T's request would signal that companies can rake in billions of dollars from taxpayers while abandoning its own customers. PUCO should block AT&T Ohio's attempt to leave the Lifeline program.

Sincerely,

A concerned Ohioan

"

Cynthia, Cuyahoga

"After making $2.1 billion from the December corporate tax cut, AT&T wants to abandon Ohioans by withdrawing from the Lifeline program.

AT&T Ohio's withdrawal would affect over 10,000 customers, including those in low-income households, the elderly, and our veterans. It is despicable that AT&T would throw Ohioans in need under the bus, especially at a time when their profits are skyrocketing.

Approving AT&T's request would signal that companies can rake in billions of dollars from taxpayers while abandoning its own customers. PUCO should block AT&T Ohio's attempt to leave the Lifeline program.

Sincerely,

A concerned Ohioan

"

Norman, Cuyahoga

“After making $2.1 billion from the December corporate tax cut, AT&T wants to abandon Ohioans by withdrawing from the Lifeline program.

AT&T Ohio's withdrawal would affect over 10,000 customers, including those in low-income households, the elderly, and our veterans. It is despicable that AT&T would throw Ohioans in need under the bus, especially at a time when their profits are skyrocketing.

Approving AT&T's request would signal that companies can rake in billions of dollars from taxpayers while abandoning its own customers. PUCO should block AT&T Ohio's attempt to leave the Lifeline program.

Sincerely,

A concerned Ohioan

”

Martha, Cuyahoga

"After making $2.1 billion from the December corporate tax cut, AT&T wants to abandon Ohioans by withdrawing from the Lifeline program.

AT&T Ohio's withdrawal would affect over 10,000 customers, including those in low-income households, the elderly, and our veterans. It is despicable that AT&T would throw Ohioans in need under the bus, especially at a time when their profits are skyrocketing.

Approving AT&T's request would signal that companies can rake in billions of dollars from taxpayers while abandoning its own customers. PUCO should block AT&T Ohio's attempt to leave the Lifeline program.

Sincerely,

A concerned Ohioan

"

Julie, Cuyahoga

"After making $2.1 billion from the December corporate tax cut, AT&T wants to abandon Ohioans by withdrawing from the Lifeline program.

AT&T Ohio's withdrawal would affect over 10,000 customers, including those in low-income households, the elderly, and our veterans. It is despicable that AT&T would throw Ohioans in need under the bus, especially at a time when their profits are skyrocketing.

Approving AT&T's request would signal that companies can rake in billions of dollars from taxpayers while abandoning its own customers. PUCO should block AT&T Ohio's attempt to leave the Lifeline program.

Sincerely,

A concerned Ohioan

"

Walter, Cuyahoga

“After making $2.1 billion from the December corporate tax cut, AT&T wants to abandon Ohioans by withdrawing from the Lifeline program.

AT&T Ohio's withdrawal would affect over 10,000 customers, including those in low-income households, the elderly, and our veterans. It is despicable that AT&T would throw Ohioans in need under the bus, especially at a time when their profits are skyrocketing.

Approving AT&T's request would signal that companies can rake in billions of dollars from taxpayers while abandoning its own customers. PUCO should block AT&T Ohio's attempt to leave the Lifeline program.

Sincerely,

A concerned Ohioan

”

David, Cuyahoga

1.
"Unregulated, corporations will always eat humans, just as alligators do. After making $2.1 billion from the December corporate tax cut, AT&T wants to abandon Ohioans by withdrawing from the Lifeline program.

PUCO is the alligator wrestler--please get in there and wrestle!

Sincerely,

A concerned Ohioan

"

Bonita, Cuyahoga

"After making $2.1 billion from the December corporate tax cut, AT&T wants to abandon Ohioans by withdrawing from the Lifeline program.

AT&T Ohio's withdrawal would affect over 10,000 customers, including those in low-income households, the elderly, and our veterans. It is despicable that AT&T would throw Ohioans in need under the bus, especially at a time when their profits are skyrocketing.

Approving AT&T's request would signal that companies can rake in billions of dollars from taxpayers while abandoning its own customers. PUCO should block AT&T Ohio's attempt to leave the Lifeline program.

Sincerely,

A concerned Ohioan

"

Paul, 43460

“After making $2.1 billion from the December corporate tax cut, AT&T wants to abandon Ohioans by withdrawing from the Lifeline program.

AT&T Ohio's withdrawal would affect over 10,000 customers, including those in low-income households, the elderly, and our veterans. It is despicable that AT&T would throw Ohioans in need under the bus, especially at a time when their profits are skyrocketing.

Approving AT&T's request would signal that companies can rake in billions of dollars from taxpayers while abandoning its own customers. PUCO should block AT&T Ohio's attempt to leave the Lifeline program.

Sincerely,

A concerned Ohioan

”

Matthew, 43537

"After making $2.1 billion from the December corporate tax cut, AT&T wants to abandon Ohioans by withdrawing from the Lifeline program.

AT&T Ohio's withdrawal would affect over 10,000 customers, including those in low-income households, the elderly, and our veterans. It is despicable that AT&T would throw Ohioans in need under the bus, especially at a time when their profits are skyrocketing.

Approving AT&T's request would signal that companies can rake in billions of dollars from taxpayers while abandoning its own customers. PUCO should block AT&T Ohio's attempt to leave the Lifeline program.

Sincerely,

A concerned Ohioan

"

Delores, 44128

"After making $2.1 billion from the December corporate tax cut, AT&T wants to abandon Ohioans by withdrawing from the Lifeline program.

AT&T Ohio's withdrawal would affect over 10,000 customers, including those in low-income households, the elderly, and our veterans. It is despicable that AT&T would throw Ohioans in need under the bus, especially at a time when their profits are skyrocketing.

Approving AT&T's request would signal that companies can rake in billions of dollars from taxpayers while abandoning its own customers. PUCO should block AT&T Ohio's attempt to leave the Lifeline program.

Sincerely,

A concerned Ohioan

"

Michael, 44076

“After making $2.1 billion from the December corporate tax cut, AT&T wants to abandon Ohioans by withdrawing from the Lifeline program.

AT&T Ohio's withdrawal would affect over 10,000 customers, including those in low-income households, the elderly, and our veterans. It is despicable that AT&T would throw Ohioans in need under the bus, especially at a time when their profits are skyrocketing.

Approving AT&T's request would signal that companies can rake in billions of dollars from taxpayers while abandoning its own customers. PUCO should block AT&T Ohio's attempt to leave the Lifeline program.

Sincerely,

A concerned Ohioan

”

Michele, 44663

"After making $2.1 billion from the December corporate tax cut, AT&T wants to abandon Ohioans by withdrawing from the Lifeline program.

AT&T Ohio's withdrawal would affect over 10,000 customers, including those in low-income households, the elderly, and our veterans. It is despicable that AT&T would throw Ohioans in need under the bus, especially at a time when their profits are skyrocketing.

Approving AT&T's request would signal that companies can rake in billions of dollars from taxpayers while abandoning its own customers. PUCO should block AT&T Ohio's attempt to leave the Lifeline program.

Sincerely,

A concerned Ohioan

"

Margaret, 44118

"After making $2.1 billion from the December corporate tax cut, AT&T wants to abandon Ohioans by withdrawing from the Lifeline program.

AT&T Ohio's withdrawal would affect over 10,000 customers, including those in low-income households, the elderly, and our veterans. It is despicable that AT&T would throw Ohioans in need under the bus, especially at a time when their profits are skyrocketing.

Approving AT&T's request would signal that companies can rake in billions of dollars from taxpayers while abandoning its own customers. PUCO should block AT&T Ohio's attempt to leave the Lifeline program.

Sincerely,

A concerned Ohioan

"

Fred, 43055

“After making $2.1 billion from the December corporate tax cut, AT&T wants to abandon Ohioans by withdrawing from the Lifeline program.

AT&T Ohio's withdrawal would affect over 10,000 customers, including those in low-income households, the elderly, and our veterans. It is despicable that AT&T would throw Ohioans in need under the bus, especially at a time when their profits are skyrocketing.

Approving AT&T's request would signal that companies can rake in billions of dollars from taxpayers while abandoning its own customers. PUCO should block AT&T Ohio's attempt to leave the Lifeline program.

Sincerely,

A concerned Ohioan

”

William, 44312

"After making $2.1 billion from the December corporate tax cut, AT&T wants to abandon Ohioans by withdrawing from the Lifeline program.

AT&T Ohio's withdrawal would affect over 10,000 customers, including those in low-income households, the elderly, and our veterans. It is despicable that AT&T would throw Ohioans in need under the bus, especially at a time when their profits are skyrocketing.

Approving AT&T's request would signal that companies can rake in billions of dollars from taxpayers while abandoning its own customers. PUCO should block AT&T Ohio's attempt to leave the Lifeline program.

Sincerely,

A concerned Ohioan

"

Dorian, 44119

"After making $2.1 billion from the December corporate tax cut, AT&T wants to abandon Ohioans by withdrawing from the Lifeline program.

AT&T Ohio's withdrawal would affect over 10,000 customers, including those in low-income households, the elderly, and our veterans. It is despicable that AT&T would throw Ohioans in need under the bus, especially at a time when their profits are skyrocketing.

Approving AT&T's request would signal that companies can rake in billions of dollars from taxpayers while abandoning its own customers. PUCO should block AT&T Ohio's attempt to leave the Lifeline program.

Sincerely,

A concerned Ohioan

"

Craig, Adams

"After making $2.1 billion from the December corporate tax cut, AT&T wants to abandon Ohioans by withdrawing from the Lifeline program.

AT&T Ohio's withdrawal would affect over 10,000 customers, including those in low-income households, the elderly, and our veterans. It is despicable that AT&T would throw Ohioans in need under the bus, especially at a time when their profits are skyrocketing.

Approving AT&T's request would signal that companies can rake in billions of dollars from taxpayers while abandoning its own customers. PUCO should block AT&T Ohio's attempt to leave the Lifeline program.

Sincerely,

A concerned Ohioan

"

Caroline, Adams

1.
“After making $2.1 billion from the December corporate tax cut, AT&T wants to abandon Ohioans by withdrawing from the Lifeline program.

AT&T Ohio's withdrawal would affect over 10,000 customers, including those in low-income households, the elderly, and our veterans. It is despicable that AT&T would throw Ohioans in need under the bus, especially at a time when their profits are skyrocketing.

Approving AT&T's request would signal that companies can rake in billions of dollars from taxpayers while abandoning its own customers. PUCO should block AT&T Ohio's attempt to leave the Lifeline program.

Sincerely,

A concerned Ohioan

”

Carol, Ashland

"After making $2.1 billion from the December corporate tax cut, AT&T wants to abandon Ohioans by withdrawing from the Lifeline program.

AT&T Ohio's withdrawal would affect over 10,000 customers, including those in low-income households, the elderly, and our veterans. It is despicable that AT&T would throw Ohioans in need under the bus, especially at a time when their profits are skyrocketing.

Approving AT&T's request would signal that companies can rake in billions of dollars from taxpayers while abandoning its own customers. PUCO should block AT&T Ohio's attempt to leave the Lifeline program.

Sincerely,

A concerned Ohioan

"

Clyde, Ashland

“After making $2.1 billion from the December corporate tax cut, AT&T wants to abandon Ohioans by withdrawing from the Lifeline program.

AT&T Ohio's withdrawal would affect over 10,000 customers, including those in low-income households, the elderly, and our veterans. It is despicable that AT&T would throw Ohioans in need under the bus, especially at a time when their profits are skyrocketing.

Approving AT&T's request would signal that companies can rake in billions of dollars from taxpayers while abandoning its own customers. PUCO should block AT&T Ohio's attempt to leave the Lifeline program.

Sincerely,

A concerned Ohioan

”

John, Ashland

“After making $2.1 billion from the December corporate tax cut, AT&T wants to abandon Ohioans by withdrawing from the Lifeline program.

AT&T Ohio's withdrawal would affect over 10,000 customers, including those in low-income households, the elderly, and our veterans. It is despicable that AT&T would throw Ohioans in need under the bus, especially at a time when their profits are skyrocketing.

Approving AT&T's request would signal that companies can rake in billions of dollars from taxpayers while abandoning its own customers. PUCO should block AT&T Ohio's attempt to leave the Lifeline program.

Sincerely,

A concerned Ohioan

”

RoseMarie, Ashtabula

“After making $2.1 billion from the December corporate tax cut, AT&T wants to abandon Ohioans by withdrawing from the Lifeline program.

AT&T Ohio's withdrawal would affect over 10,000 customers, including those in low-income households, the elderly, and our veterans. It is despicable that AT&T would throw Ohioans in need under the bus, especially at a time when their profits are skyrocketing.

Approving AT&T's request would signal that companies can rake in billions of dollars from taxpayers while abandoning its own customers. PUCO should block AT&T Ohio's attempt to leave the Lifeline program.

Sincerely,

A concerned Ohioan

”

George, Ashtabula

"After making $2.1 billion from the December corporate tax cut, AT&T wants to abandon Ohioans by withdrawing from the Lifeline program.

AT&T Ohio's withdrawal would affect over 10,000 customers, including those in low-income households, the elderly, and our veterans. It is despicable that AT&T would throw Ohioans in need under the bus, especially at a time when their profits are skyrocketing.

Approving AT&T's request would signal that companies can rake in billions of dollars from taxpayers while abandoning its own customers. PUCO should block AT&T Ohio's attempt to leave the Lifeline program.

Sincerely,

A concerned Ohioan

"

kenneth, Ashtabula

"After making $2.1 billion from the December corporate tax cut, AT&T wants to abandon Ohioans by withdrawing from the Lifeline program.

AT&T Ohio's withdrawal would affect over 10,000 customers, including those in low-income households, the elderly, and our veterans. It is despicable that AT&T would throw Ohioans in need under the bus, especially at a time when their profits are skyrocketing.

Approving AT&T's request would signal that companies can rake in billions of dollars from taxpayers while abandoning its own customers. PUCO should block AT&T Ohio's attempt to leave the Lifeline program.

Sincerely,

A concerned Ohioan

"

Susan, Athens

"After making $2.1 billion from the December corporate tax cut, AT&T wants to abandon Ohioans by withdrawing from the Lifeline program.

AT&T Ohio's withdrawal would affect over 10,000 customers, including those in low-income households, the elderly, and our veterans. It is despicable that AT&T would throw Ohioans in need under the bus, especially at a time when their profits are skyrocketing.

Approving AT&T's request would signal that companies can rake in billions of dollars from taxpayers while abandoning its own customers. PUCO should block AT&T Ohio's attempt to leave the Lifeline program.

Sincerely,

A concerned Ohioan

"

Berry, Athens

"After making $2.1 billion from the December corporate tax cut, AT&T wants to abandon Ohioans by withdrawing from the Lifeline program.

AT&T Ohio's withdrawal would affect over 10,000 customers, including those in low-income households, the elderly, and our veterans. It is despicable that AT&T would throw Ohioans in need under the bus, especially at a time when their profits are skyrocketing.

Approving AT&T's request would signal that companies can rake in billions of dollars from taxpayers while abandoning its own customers. PUCO should block AT&T Ohio's attempt to leave the Lifeline program.

Sincerely,

A concerned Ohioan

"

Michael, Athens

"After making $2.1 billion from the December corporate tax cut, AT&T wants to abandon Ohioans by withdrawing from the Lifeline program.

AT&T Ohio's withdrawal would affect over 10,000 customers, including those in low-income households, the elderly, and our veterans. It is despicable that AT&T would throw Ohioans in need under the bus, especially at a time when their profits are skyrocketing.

Approving AT&T's request would signal that companies can rake in billions of dollars from taxpayers while abandoning its own customers. PUCO should block AT&T Ohio's attempt to leave the Lifeline program.

Sincerely,

A concerned Ohioan

"

Marcy, Athens

"After making $2.1 billion from the December corporate tax cut, AT&T wants to abandon Ohioans by withdrawing from the Lifeline program.

AT&T Ohio's withdrawal would affect over 10,000 customers, including those in low-income households, the elderly, and our veterans. It is despicable that AT&T would throw Ohioans in need under the bus, especially at a time when their profits are skyrocketing.

Approving AT&T's request would signal that companies can rake in billions of dollars from taxpayers while abandoning its own customers. PUCO should block AT&T Ohio's attempt to leave the Lifeline program.

Sincerely,

A concerned Ohioan

"

Beverly, Athens

"After making $2.1 billion from the December corporate tax cut, AT&T wants to abandon Ohioans by withdrawing from the Lifeline program.

AT&T Ohio's withdrawal would affect over 10,000 customers, including those in low-income households, the elderly, and our veterans. It is despicable that AT&T would throw Ohioans in need under the bus, especially at a time when their profits are skyrocketing.

Approving AT&T's request would signal that companies can rake in billions of dollars from taxpayers while abandoning its own customers. PUCO should block AT&T Ohio's attempt to leave the Lifeline program.

Sincerely,

A concerned Ohioan

"

Elizabeth, Athens

"After making $2.1 billion from the December corporate tax cut, AT&T wants to abandon Ohioans by withdrawing from the Lifeline program.

AT&T Ohio's withdrawal would affect over 10,000 customers, including those in low-income households, the elderly, and our veterans. It is despicable that AT&T would throw Ohioans in need under the bus, especially at a time when their profits are skyrocketing.

Approving AT&T's request would signal that companies can rake in billions of dollars from taxpayers while abandoning its own customers. PUCO should block AT&T Ohio's attempt to leave the Lifeline program.

Sincerely,

A concerned Ohioan

"

Kim, Athens

“After making $2.1 billion from the December corporate tax cut, AT&T wants to abandon Ohioans by withdrawing from the Lifeline program.

AT&T Ohio's withdrawal would affect over 10,000 customers, including those in low-income households, the elderly, and our veterans. It is despicable that AT&T would throw Ohioans in need under the bus, especially at a time when their profits are skyrocketing.

Approving AT&T's request would signal that companies can rake in billions of dollars from taxpayers while abandoning its own customers. PUCO should block AT&T Ohio's attempt to leave the Lifeline program.

Sincerely,

A concerned Ohioan

”

Marcy, Athens

"After making $2.1 billion from the December corporate tax cut, AT&T wants to abandon Ohioans by withdrawing from the Lifeline program.

AT&T Ohio's withdrawal would affect over 10,000 customers, including those in low-income households, the elderly, and our veterans. It is despicable that AT&T would throw Ohioans in need under the bus, especially at a time when their profits are skyrocketing.

Approving AT&T's request would signal that companies can rake in billions of dollars from taxpayers while abandoning its own customers. PUCO should block AT&T Ohio's attempt to leave the Lifeline program.

Sincerely,

A concerned Ohioan

"

Brenda, Athens

1.
"After making $2.1 billion from the December corporate tax cut, AT&T wants to abandon Ohioans by withdrawing from the Lifeline program.

AT&T Ohio's withdrawal would affect over 10,000 customers, including those in low-income households, the elderly, and our veterans. It is despicable that AT&T would throw Ohioans in need under the bus, especially at a time when their profits are skyrocketing.

Approving AT&T's request would signal that companies can rake in billions of dollars from taxpayers while abandoning its own customers. PUCO should block AT&T Ohio's attempt to leave the Lifeline program.

Sincerely,

A concerned Ohioan

"

Chad, Auglaize

“After making $2.1 billion from the December corporate tax cut, AT&T wants to abandon Ohioans by withdrawing from the Lifeline program.

AT&T Ohio’s withdrawal would affect over 10,000 customers, including those in low-income households, the elderly, and our veterans. It is despicable that AT&T would throw Ohioans in need under the bus, especially at a time when their profits are skyrocketing.

Approving AT&T’s request would signal that companies can rake in billions of dollars from taxpayers while abandoning its own customers. PUCO should block AT&T Ohio’s attempt to leave the Lifeline program.

Sincerely,

A concerned Ohioan

”

Ruth, Butler

"After making $2.1 billion from the December corporate tax cut, AT&T wants to abandon Ohioans by withdrawing from the Lifeline program.

AT&T Ohio's withdrawal would affect over 10,000 customers, including those in low-income households, the elderly, and our veterans. It is despicable that AT&T would throw Ohioans in need under the bus, especially at a time when their profits are skyrocketing.

Approving AT&T's request would signal that companies can rake in billions of dollars from taxpayers while abandoning its own customers. PUCO should block AT&T Ohio's attempt to leave the Lifeline program.

Sincerely,

A concerned Ohioan

"

Camille, Butler

"After making $2.1 billion from the December corporate tax cut, AT&T wants to abandon Ohioans by withdrawing from the Lifeline program.

AT&T Ohio's withdrawal would affect over 10,000 customers, including those in low-income households, the elderly, and our veterans. It is despicable that AT&T would throw Ohioans in need under the bus, especially at a time when their profits are skyrocketing.

Approving AT&T's request would signal that companies can rake in billions of dollars from taxpayers while abandoning its own customers. PUCO should block AT&T Ohio's attempt to leave the Lifeline program.

Sincerely,

A concerned Ohioan

"

Elizabeth, Butler

“After making $2.1 billion from the December corporate tax cut, AT&T wants to abandon Ohioans by withdrawing from the Lifeline program.

AT&T Ohio's withdrawal would affect over 10,000 customers, including those in low-income households, the elderly, and our veterans. It is despicable that AT&T would throw Ohioans in need under the bus, especially at a time when their profits are skyrocketing.

Approving AT&T's request would signal that companies can rake in billions of dollars from taxpayers while abandoning its own customers. PUCO should block AT&T Ohio's attempt to leave the Lifeline program.

Sincerely,

A concerned Ohioan

”

Corie, Butler

"After making $2.1 billion from the December corporate tax cut, AT&T wants to abandon Ohioans by withdrawing from the Lifeline program.

Many persons need the Lifeline program. AT&T Ohio's withdrawal would affect over 10,000 customers, including those in low-income households, the elderly, and our veterans. It is despicable that AT&T would throw Ohioans in need under the bus, especially at a time when their profits are skyrocketing.

Approving AT&T's request would signal that companies can rake in billions of dollars from taxpayers while abandoning its own customers. PUCO should block AT&T Ohio's attempt to leave the Lifeline program.

Sincerely,

A concerned Ohioan

"

Mary, Butler

“After making $2.1 billion from the December corporate tax cut, AT&T wants to abandon Ohioans by withdrawing from the Lifeline program.

AT&T Ohio's withdrawal would affect over 10,000 customers, including those in low-income households, the elderly, and our veterans. It is despicable that AT&T would throw Ohioans in need under the bus, especially at a time when their profits are skyrocketing.

Approving AT&T's request would signal that companies can rake in billions of dollars from taxpayers while abandoning its own customers. PUCO should block AT&T Ohio's attempt to leave the Lifeline program.

Sincerely,

A concerned Ohioan

”

Tina, Butler

"After making $2.1 billion from the December corporate tax cut, AT&T wants to abandon Ohioans by withdrawing from the Lifeline program.

AT&T Ohio's withdrawal would affect over 10,000 customers, including those in low-income households, the elderly, and our veterans. It is despicable that AT&T would throw Ohioans in need under the bus, especially at a time when their profits are skyrocketing.

Approving AT&T's request would signal that companies can rake in billions of dollars from taxpayers while abandoning its own customers. PUCO should block AT&T Ohio's attempt to leave the Lifeline program.

Sincerely,

A concerned Ohioan

"

Cindy, Butler

“After making $2.1 billion from the December corporate tax cut, AT&T wants to abandon Ohioans by withdrawing from the Lifeline program.

AT&T Ohio's withdrawal would affect over 10,000 customers, including those in low-income households, the elderly, and our veterans. It is despicable that AT&T would throw Ohioans in need under the bus, especially at a time when their profits are skyrocketing.

Approving AT&T's request would signal that companies can rake in billions of dollars from taxpayers while abandoning its own customers. PUCO should block AT&T Ohio's attempt to leave the Lifeline program.

Sincerely,

A concerned Ohioan

”

Ryan, Butler

"After making $2.1 billion from the December corporate tax cut, AT&T wants to abandon Ohioans by withdrawing from the Lifeline program.

AT&T Ohio's withdrawal would affect over 10,000 customers, including those in low-income households, the elderly, and our veterans. It is despicable that AT&T would throw Ohioans in need under the bus, especially at a time when their profits are skyrocketing.

Approving AT&T's request would signal that companies can rake in billions of dollars from taxpayers while abandoning its own customers. PUCO should block AT&T Ohio's attempt to leave the Lifeline program.

Sincerely,

A concerned Ohioan

"

James, Butler

"After making $2.1 billion from the December corporate tax cut, AT&T wants to abandon Ohioans by withdrawing from the Lifeline program.

AT&T Ohio's withdrawal would affect over 10,000 customers, including those in low-income households, the elderly, and our veterans. It is despicable that AT&T would throw Ohioans in need under the bus, especially at a time when their profits are skyrocketing.

Approving AT&T's request would signal that companies can rake in billions of dollars from taxpayers while abandoning its own customers. PUCO should block AT&T Ohio's attempt to leave the Lifeline program.

Sincerely,

A concerned Ohioan

"

Matt, Butler

"After making $2.1 billion from the December corporate tax cut, AT&T wants to abandon Ohioans by withdrawing from the Lifeline program.

AT&T Ohio's withdrawal would affect over 10,000 customers, including those in low-income households, the elderly, and our veterans. It is despicable that AT&T would throw Ohioans in need under the bus, especially at a time when their profits are skyrocketing.

Approving AT&T's request would signal that companies can rake in billions of dollars from taxpayers while abandoning its own customers. PUCO should block AT&T Ohio's attempt to leave the Lifeline program.

Sincerely,

A concerned Ohioan

"

Bessie, Butler

“After making $2.1 billion from the December corporate tax cut, AT&T wants to abandon Ohioans by withdrawing from the Lifeline program.

AT&T Ohio's withdrawal would affect over 10,000 customers, including those in low-income households, the elderly, and our veterans. It is despicable that AT&T would throw Ohioans in need under the bus, especially at a time when their profits are skyrocketing.

Approving AT&T's request would signal that companies can rake in billions of dollars from taxpayers while abandoning its own customers. PUCO should block AT&T Ohio's attempt to leave the Lifeline program.

Sincerely,

A concerned Ohioan

”

Laura, Butler

"After making $2.1 billion from the December corporate tax cut, AT&T wants to abandon Ohioans by withdrawing from the Lifeline program.

AT&T Ohio's withdrawal would affect over 10,000 customers, including those in low-income households, the elderly, and our veterans. It is despicable that AT&T would throw Ohioans in need under the bus, especially at a time when their profits are skyrocketing.

Approving AT&T's request would signal that companies can rake in billions of dollars from taxpayers while abandoning its own customers. PUCO should block AT&T Ohio's attempt to leave the Lifeline program.

Sincerely,

A concerned Ohioan

"

Deborah, Butler

"After making $2.1 billion from the December corporate tax cut, AT&T wants to abandon Ohioans by withdrawing from the Lifeline program.

AT&T Ohio's withdrawal would affect over 10,000 customers, including those in low-income households, the elderly, and our veterans. It is despicable that AT&T would throw Ohioans in need under the bus, especially at a time when their profits are skyrocketing.

Approving AT&T's request would signal that companies can rake in billions of dollars from taxpayers while abandoning its own customers. PUCO should block AT&T Ohio's attempt to leave the Lifeline program.

Sincerely,

A concerned Ohioan

"

Linda, Butler

“After making $2.1 billion from the December corporate tax cut, AT&T wants to abandon Ohioans by withdrawing from the Lifeline program.

AT&T Ohio's withdrawal would affect over 10,000 customers, including those in low-income households, the elderly, and our veterans. It is despicable that AT&T would throw Ohioans in need under the bus, especially at a time when their profits are skyrocketing.

Approving AT&T's request would signal that companies can rake in billions of dollars from taxpayers while abandoning its own customers. PUCO should block AT&T Ohio's attempt to leave the Lifeline program.

Sincerely,

A concerned Ohioan

”

Maryann, CA

"After making $2.1 billion from the December corporate tax cut, AT&T wants to abandon Ohioans by withdrawing from the Lifeline program.

AT&T Ohio's withdrawal would affect over 10,000 customers, including those in low-income households, the elderly, and our veterans. It is despicable that AT&T would throw Ohioans in need under the bus, especially at a time when their profits are skyrocketing.

Approving AT&T's request would signal that companies can rake in billions of dollars from taxpayers while abandoning its own customers. PUCO should block AT&T Ohio's attempt to leave the Lifeline program.

Sincerely,

A concerned Ohioan

"

Ellen, CA

“After making $2.1 billion from the December corporate tax cut, AT&T wants to abandon Ohioans by withdrawing from the Lifeline program.

AT&T Ohio's withdrawal would affect over 10,000 customers, including those in low-income households, the elderly, and our veterans. It is despicable that AT&T would throw Ohioans in need under the bus, especially at a time when their profits are skyrocketing.

Approving AT&T's request would signal that companies can rake in billions of dollars from taxpayers while abandoning its own customers. PUCO should block AT&T Ohio's attempt to leave the Lifeline program.

Sincerely,

A concerned Ohioan

”

Karen, CA

"After making $2.1 billion from the December corporate tax cut, AT&T wants to abandon Ohioans by withdrawing from the Lifeline program.

AT&T Ohio's withdrawal would affect over 10,000 customers, including those in low-income households, the elderly, and our veterans. It is despicable that AT&T would throw Ohioans in need under the bus, especially at a time when their profits are skyrocketing.

Approving AT&T's request would signal that companies can rake in billions of dollars from taxpayers while abandoning its own customers. PUCO should block AT&T Ohio's attempt to leave the Lifeline program.

Sincerely,

A concerned Ohioan

"

Karl, CA

“After making $2.1 billion from the December corporate tax cut, AT&T wants to abandon Ohioans by withdrawing from the Lifeline program.

AT&T Ohio's withdrawal would affect over 10,000 customers, including those in low-income households, the elderly, and our veterans. It is despicable that AT&T would throw Ohioans in need under the bus, especially at a time when their profits are skyrocketing.

Approving AT&T's request would signal that companies can rake in billions of dollars from taxpayers while abandoning its own customers. PUCO should block AT&T Ohio's attempt to leave the Lifeline program.

Sincerely,

A concerned Ohioan

”

Christine, CA

"After making $2.1 billion from the December corporate tax cut, AT&T wants to abandon Ohioans by withdrawing from the Lifeline program.

AT&T Ohio's withdrawal would affect over 10,000 customers, including those in low-income households, the elderly, and our veterans. It is despicable that AT&T would throw Ohioans in need under the bus, especially at a time when their profits are skyrocketing.

Approving AT&T's request would signal that companies can rake in billions of dollars from taxpayers while abandoning its own customers. PUCO should block AT&T Ohio's attempt to leave the Lifeline program.

Sincerely,

A concerned Ohioan

"

Deirdre, CA

“After making $2.1 billion from the December corporate tax cut, AT&T wants to abandon Ohioans by withdrawing from the Lifeline program.

AT&T Ohio's withdrawal would affect over 10,000 customers, including those in low-income households, the elderly, and our veterans. It is despicable that AT&T would throw Ohioans in need under the bus, especially at a time when their profits are skyrocketing.

Approving AT&T's request would signal that companies can rake in billions of dollars from taxpayers while abandoning its own customers. PUCO should block AT&T Ohio's attempt to leave the Lifeline program.

Sincerely,

A concerned Ohioan

”

Judith, CA

"After making $2.1 billion from the December corporate tax cut, AT&T wants to abandon Ohioans by withdrawing from the Lifeline program.

AT&T Ohio's withdrawal would affect over 10,000 customers, including those in low-income households, the elderly, and our veterans. It is despicable that AT&T would throw Ohioans in need under the bus, especially at a time when their profits are skyrocketing.

Approving AT&T's request would signal that companies can rake in billions of dollars from taxpayers while abandoning its own customers. PUCO should block AT&T Ohio's attempt to leave the Lifeline program.

Sincerely,

A concerned Ohioan

"

Judith, CA

"After making $2.1 billion from the December corporate tax cut, AT&T wants to abandon Ohioans by withdrawing from the Lifeline program.

AT&T Ohio's withdrawal would affect over 10,000 customers, including those in low-income households, the elderly, and our veterans. It is despicable that AT&T would throw Ohioans in need under the bus, especially at a time when their profits are skyrocketing.

Approving AT&T's request would signal that companies can rake in billions of dollars from taxpayers while abandoning its own customers. PUCO should block AT&T Ohio's attempt to leave the Lifeline program.

Sincerely,

A concerned Ohioan

"

Peter, CA

1.
"After making $2.1 billion from the December corporate tax cut, AT&T wants to abandon Ohioans by withdrawing from the Lifeline program.

AT&T Ohio's withdrawal would affect over 10,000 customers, including those in low-income households, the elderly, and our veterans. It is despicable that AT&T would throw Ohioans in need under the bus, especially at a time when their profits are skyrocketing.

Approving AT&T's request would signal that companies can rake in billions of dollars from taxpayers while abandoning its own customers. PUCO should block AT&T Ohio's attempt to leave the Lifeline program.

Sincerely,

A concerned Ohioan

"

Neal, Clark

"After making $2.1 billion from the December corporate tax cut, AT&T wants to abandon Ohioans by withdrawing from the Lifeline program.

AT&T Ohio's withdrawal would affect over 10,000 customers, including those in low-income households, the elderly, and our veterans. It is despicable that AT&T would throw Ohioans in need under the bus, especially at a time when their profits are skyrocketing.

Approving AT&T's request would signal that companies can rake in billions of dollars from taxpayers while abandoning its own customers. PUCO should block AT&T Ohio's attempt to leave the Lifeline program.

Sincerely,

A concerned Ohioan

"

Steve, Clark

1.
“After making $2.1 billion from the December corporate tax cut, AT&T wants to abandon Ohioans by withdrawing from the Lifeline program.

AT&T Ohio's withdrawal would affect over 10,000 customers, including those in low-income households, the elderly, and our veterans. It is despicable that AT&T would throw Ohioans in need under the bus, especially at a time when their profits are skyrocketing.

Approving AT&T's request would signal that companies can rake in billions of dollars from taxpayers while abandoning its own customers. PUCO should block AT&T Ohio's attempt to leave the Lifeline program.

Sincerely,

A concerned Ohioan

”

Kuchera, Clark

"After making $2.1 billion from the December corporate tax cut, AT&T wants to abandon Ohioans by withdrawing from the Lifeline program.

AT&T Ohio's withdrawal would affect over 10,000 customers, including those in low-income households, the elderly, and our veterans. It is despicable that AT&T would throw Ohioans in need under the bus, especially at a time when their profits are skyrocketing.

Approving AT&T's request would signal that companies can rake in billions of dollars from taxpayers while abandoning its own customers. PUCO should block AT&T Ohio's attempt to leave the Lifeline program.

Sincerely,

A concerned Ohioan

"

James, Clark

"After making $2.1 billion from the December corporate tax cut, AT&T wants to abandon Ohioans by withdrawing from the Lifeline program.

AT&T Ohio's withdrawal would affect over 10,000 customers, including those in low-income households, the elderly, and our veterans. It is despicable that AT&T would throw Ohioans in need under the bus, especially at a time when their profits are skyrocketing.

AT&T is demonstrating that it is not a good corporate citizen of our state and doesn't recognize its responsibilities to the people of Ohio in general, and to those who need the Lifeline program the most.

Approving AT&T's request would signal that companies can rake in billions of dollars from taxpayers while abandoning its own customers. PUCO should block AT&T Ohio's attempt to leave the Lifeline program. Don't let greed and corporate irresponsibility be rewarded!

Sincerely,

A concerned Ohioan

"

Richard, Clark

"After making $2.1 billion from the December corporate tax cut, AT&T wants to abandon Ohioans by withdrawing from the Lifeline program.

AT&T Ohio's withdrawal would affect over 10,000 customers, including those in low-income households, the elderly, and our veterans. It is despicable that AT&T would throw Ohioans in need under the bus, especially at a time when their profits are skyrocketing.

Approving AT&T's request would signal that companies can rake in billions of dollars from taxpayers while abandoning its own customers. PUCO should block AT&T Ohio's attempt to leave the Lifeline program.

Sincerely,

A concerned Ohioan

"

Janice, Clark

1.
“After making $2.1 billion from the December corporate tax cut, AT&T wants to abandon Ohioans by withdrawing from the Lifeline program.

AT&T Ohio's withdrawal would affect over 10,000 customers, including those in low-income households, the elderly, and our veterans. It is despicable that AT&T would throw Ohioans in need under the bus, especially at a time when their profits are skyrocketing.

Approving AT&T's request would signal that companies can rake in billions of dollars from taxpayers while abandoning its own customers. PUCO should block AT&T Ohio's attempt to leave the Lifeline program.

Sincerely,

A concerned Ohioan

”

Glenn, Clark

"After making $2.1 billion from the December corporate tax cut, AT&T wants to abandon Ohioans by withdrawing from the Lifeline program.

AT&T Ohio's withdrawal would affect over 10,000 customers, including those in low-income households, the elderly, and our veterans. It is despicable that AT&T would throw Ohioans in need under the bus, especially at a time when their profits are skyrocketing.

Approving AT&T's request would signal that companies can rake in billions of dollars from taxpayers while abandoning its own customers. PUCO should block AT&T Ohio's attempt to leave the Lifeline program.

Sincerely,

A concerned Ohioan

"

Taylor, Clark

1.
"After making $2.1 billion from the December corporate tax cut, AT&T wants to abandon Ohioans by withdrawing from the Lifeline program.

AT&T Ohio's withdrawal would affect over 10,000 customers, including those in low-income households, the elderly, and our veterans. It is despicable that AT&T would throw Ohioans in need under the bus, especially at a time when their profits are skyrocketing.

Approving AT&T's request would signal that companies can rake in billions of dollars from taxpayers while abandoning its own customers. PUCO should block AT&T Ohio's attempt to leave the Lifeline program.

Sincerely,

A concerned Ohioan

"

Michael, Clermont

"After making $2.1 billion from the December corporate tax cut, AT&T wants to abandon Ohioans by withdrawing from the Lifeline program.

AT&T Ohio's withdrawal would affect over 10,000 customers, including those in low-income households, the elderly, and our veterans. It is despicable that AT&T would throw Ohioans in need under the bus, especially at a time when their profits are skyrocketing.

Approving AT&T's request would signal that companies can rake in billions of dollars from taxpayers while abandoning its own customers. PUCO should block AT&T Ohio's attempt to leave the Lifeline program.

Sincerely,

A concerned Ohioan

"

Jim, Clermont

“After making $2.1 billion from the December corporate tax cut, AT&T wants to abandon Ohioans by withdrawing from the Lifeline program.

AT&T Ohio's withdrawal would affect over 10,000 customers, including those in low-income households, the elderly, and our veterans. It is despicable that AT&T would throw Ohioans in need under the bus, especially at a time when their profits are skyrocketing.

Approving AT&T's request would signal that companies can rake in billions of dollars from taxpayers while abandoning its own customers. PUCO should block AT&T Ohio's attempt to leave the Lifeline program.

Sincerely,

A concerned Ohioan

”

Rand, Clermont

“After making $2.1 billion from the December corporate tax cut, AT&T wants to abandon Ohioans by withdrawing from the Lifeline program.

AT&T Ohio's withdrawal would affect over 10,000 customers, including those in low-income households, the elderly, and our veterans. It is despicable that AT&T would throw Ohioans in need under the bus, especially at a time when their profits are skyrocketing.

Approving AT&T's request would signal that companies can rake in billions of dollars from taxpayers while abandoning its own customers. PUCO should block AT&T Ohio's attempt to leave the Lifeline program.

Sincerely,

A concerned Ohioan

”

Don, Clermont

"After making $2.1 billion from the December corporate tax cut, AT&T wants to abandon Ohioans by withdrawing from the Lifeline program.

AT&T Ohio's withdrawal would affect over 10,000 customers, including those in low-income households, the elderly, and our veterans. It is despicable that AT&T would throw Ohioans in need under the bus, especially at a time when their profits are skyrocketing.

Approving AT&T's request would signal that companies can rake in billions of dollars from taxpayers while abandoning its own customers. PUCO should block AT&T Ohio's attempt to leave the Lifeline program.

Sincerely,

A concerned Ohioan

"

Connie, Clinton

“After making $2.1 billion from the December corporate tax cut, AT&T wants to abandon Ohioans by withdrawing from the Lifeline program.

AT&T Ohio's withdrawal would affect over 10,000 customers, including those in low-income households, the elderly, and our veterans. It is despicable that AT&T would throw Ohioans in need under the bus, especially at a time when their profits are skyrocketing.

Approving AT&T's request would signal that companies can rake in billions of dollars from taxpayers while abandoning its own customers. PUCO should block AT&T Ohio's attempt to leave the Lifeline program.

Sincerely,

A concerned Ohioan

”

Tom, Clinton

"After making $2.1 billion from the December corporate tax cut, AT&T wants to abandon Ohioans by withdrawing from the Lifeline program.

AT&T Ohio's withdrawal would affect over 10,000 customers, including those in low-income households, the elderly, and our veterans. It is despicable that AT&T would throw Ohioans in need under the bus, especially at a time when their profits are skyrocketing.

Approving AT&T's request would signal that companies can rake in billions of dollars from taxpayers while abandoning its own customers. PUCO should block AT&T Ohio's attempt to leave the Lifeline program.

Sincerely,

A concerned Ohioan

"

Marilyn, Clinton

“After making $2.1 billion from the December corporate tax cut, AT&T wants to abandon Ohioans by withdrawing from the Lifeline program.

AT&T Ohio's withdrawal would affect over 10,000 customers, including those in low-income households, the elderly, and our veterans. It is despicable that AT&T would throw Ohioans in need under the bus, especially at a time when their profits are skyrocketing.

Approving AT&T's request would signal that companies can rake in billions of dollars from taxpayers while abandoning its own customers. PUCO should block AT&T Ohio's attempt to leave the Lifeline program.

Sincerely,

A concerned Ohioan

”

Joni, Clinton

1.
“After making $2.1 billion from the December corporate tax cut, AT&T wants to abandon Ohioans by withdrawing from the Lifeline program.

AT&T Ohio's withdrawal would affect over 10,000 customers, including those in low-income households, the elderly, and our veterans. It is despicable that AT&T would throw Ohioans in need under the bus, especially at a time when their profits are skyrocketing.

Approving AT&T's request would signal that companies can rake in billions of dollars from taxpayers while abandoning its own customers. PUCO should block AT&T Ohio's attempt to leave the Lifeline program.

Sincerely,

A concerned Ohioan

”

Megan, CO

1.
"After making $2.1 billion from the December corporate tax cut, AT&T wants to abandon Ohioans by withdrawing from the Lifeline program.

AT&T Ohio's withdrawal would affect over 10,000 customers, including those in low-income households, the elderly, and our veterans. It is despicable that AT&T would throw Ohioans in need under the bus, especially at a time when their profits are skyrocketing.

Approving AT&T's request would signal that companies can rake in billions of dollars from taxpayers while abandoning its own customers. PUCO should block AT&T Ohio's attempt to leave the Lifeline program.

Sincerely,

A concerned Ohioan

"

Debbie, Columbiana

"After making $2.1 billion from the December corporate tax cut, AT&T wants to abandon Ohioans by withdrawing from the Lifeline program.

AT&T Ohio's withdrawal would affect over 10,000 customers, including those in low-income households, the elderly, and our veterans. It is despicable that AT&T would throw Ohioans in need under the bus, especially at a time when their profits are skyrocketing.

Approving AT&T's request would signal that companies can rake in billions of dollars from taxpayers while abandoning its own customers. PUCO should block AT&T Ohio's attempt to leave the Lifeline program.

Sincerely,

A concerned Ohioan

"

Kathy, Columbiana

"After making $2.1 billion from the December corporate tax cut, AT&T wants to abandon Ohioans by withdrawing from the Lifeline program.

AT&T Ohio's withdrawal would affect over 10,000 customers, including those in low-income households, the elderly, and our veterans. It is despicable that AT&T would throw Ohioans in need under the bus, especially at a time when their profits are skyrocketing.

Approving AT&T's request would signal that companies can rake in billions of dollars from taxpayers while abandoning its own customers. PUCO should block AT&T Ohio's attempt to leave the Lifeline program.

Sincerely,

A concerned Ohioan

"

Jeanne, Coshocton

"After making $2.1 billion from the December corporate tax cut, AT&T wants to abandon Ohioans by withdrawing from the Lifeline program.

AT&T Ohio's withdrawal would affect over 10,000 customers, including those in low-income households, the elderly, and our veterans. It is despicable that AT&T would throw Ohioans in need under the bus, especially at a time when their profits are skyrocketing.

Approving AT&T's request would signal that companies can rake in billions of dollars from taxpayers while abandoning its own customers. PUCO should block AT&T Ohio's attempt to leave the Lifeline program.

Sincerely,

A concerned Ohioan

"

Marge, Crawford

1.
"After making $2.1 billion from the December corporate tax cut, AT&T wants to abandon Ohioans by withdrawing from the Lifeline program.

AT&T Ohio's withdrawal would affect over 10,000 customers, including those in low-income households, the elderly, and our veterans. It is despicable that AT&T would throw Ohioans in need under the bus, especially at a time when their profits are skyrocketing.

Approving AT&T's request would signal that companies can rake in billions of dollars from taxpayers while abandoning its own customers. PUCO should block AT&T Ohio's attempt to leave the Lifeline program.

Sincerely,

A concerned Ohioan

"

Rebecca, Crawford

"After making $2.1 billion from the December corporate tax cut, AT&T wants to abandon Ohioans by withdrawing from the Lifeline program.

AT&T Ohio's withdrawal would affect over 10,000 customers, including those in low-income households, the elderly, and our veterans. It is despicable that AT&T would throw Ohioans in need under the bus, especially at a time when their profits are skyrocketing.

Approving AT&T's request would signal that companies can rake in billions of dollars from taxpayers while abandoning its own customers. PUCO should block AT&T Ohio's attempt to leave the Lifeline program.

Sincerely,

A concerned Ohioan

"

Millie, Crawford

1.
“After making $2.1 billion from the December corporate tax cut, AT&T wants to abandon Ohioans by withdrawing from the Lifeline program.

AT&T Ohio's withdrawal would affect over 10,000 customers, including those in low-income households, the elderly, and our veterans. It is despicable that AT&T would throw Ohioans in need under the bus, especially at a time when their profits are skyrocketing.

Approving AT&T's request would signal that companies can rake in billions of dollars from taxpayers while abandoning its own customers. PUCO should block AT&T Ohio's attempt to leave the Lifeline program.

Sincerely,

A concerned Ohioan

”

Jacob, CT

"After making $2.1 billion from the December corporate tax cut, AT&T wants to abandon Ohioans by withdrawing from the Lifeline program.

AT&T Ohio's withdrawal would affect over 10,000 customers, including those in low-income households, the elderly, and our veterans. It is despicable that AT&T would throw Ohioans in need under the bus, especially at a time when their profits are skyrocketing.

Approving AT&T's request would signal that companies can rake in billions of dollars from taxpayers while abandoning its own customers. PUCO should block AT&T Ohio's attempt to leave the Lifeline program.

Sincerely,

A concerned Ohioan

"

Bill, Cuyahoga

“After making $2.1 billion from the December corporate tax cut, AT&T wants to abandon Ohioans by withdrawing from the Lifeline program.

AT&T Ohio's withdrawal would affect over 10,000 customers, including those in low-income households, the elderly, and our veterans. It is despicable that AT&T would throw Ohioans in need under the bus, especially at a time when their profits are skyrocketing.

Approving AT&T's request would signal that companies can rake in billions of dollars from taxpayers while abandoning its own customers. PUCO should block AT&T Ohio's attempt to leave the Lifeline program.

Sincerely,

A concerned Ohioan

”

Marian, Cuyahoga

"After making $2.1 billion from the December corporate tax cut, AT&T wants to abandon Ohioans by withdrawing from the Lifeline program.

AT&T Ohio's withdrawal would affect over 10,000 customers, including those in low-income households, the elderly, and our veterans. It is despicable that AT&T would throw Ohioans in need under the bus, especially at a time when their profits are skyrocketing.

Approving AT&T's request would signal that companies can rake in billions of dollars from taxpayers while abandoning its own customers. PUCO should block AT&T Ohio's attempt to leave the Lifeline program.

Sincerely,

A concerned Ohioan

"

Peter, Cuyahoga

“After making $2.1 billion from the December corporate tax cut, AT&T wants to abandon Ohioans by withdrawing from the Lifeline program.

AT&T Ohio's withdrawal would affect over 10,000 customers, including those in low-income households, the elderly, and our veterans. It is despicable that AT&T would throw Ohioans in need under the bus, especially at a time when their profits are skyrocketing.

Approving AT&T's request would signal that companies can rake in billions of dollars from taxpayers while abandoning its own customers. PUCO should block AT&T Ohio's attempt to leave the Lifeline program.

Sincerely,

A concerned Ohioan

”

Alice, Cuyahoga

"After making $2.1 billion from the December corporate tax cut, AT&T wants to abandon Ohioans by withdrawing from the Lifeline program.

AT&T Ohio's withdrawal would affect over 10,000 customers, including those in low-income households, the elderly, and our veterans. It is despicable that AT&T would throw Ohioans in need under the bus, especially at a time when their profits are skyrocketing.

Approving AT&T's request would signal that companies can rake in billions of dollars from taxpayers while abandoning its own customers. PUCO should block AT&T Ohio's attempt to leave the Lifeline program.

Sincerely,

A concerned Ohioan

"

Anne, Cuyahoga

"After making $2.1 billion from the December corporate tax cut, AT&T wants to abandon Ohioans by withdrawing from the Lifeline program.

AT&T Ohio's withdrawal would affect over 10,000 customers, including those in low-income households, the elderly, and our veterans. It is despicable that AT&T would throw Ohioans in need under the bus, especially at a time when their profits are skyrocketing.

Approving AT&T's request would signal that companies can rake in billions of dollars from taxpayers while abandoning its own customers. PUCO should block AT&T Ohio's attempt to leave the Lifeline program.

Sincerely,

A concerned Ohioan

"

Catherine, Cuyahoga

“After making $2.1 billion from the December corporate tax cut, AT&T wants to abandon Ohioans by withdrawing from the Lifeline program.

AT&T Ohio's withdrawal would affect over 10,000 customers, including those in low-income households, the elderly, and our veterans. It is despicable that AT&T would throw Ohioans in need under the bus, especially at a time when their profits are skyrocketing.

Approving AT&T's request would signal that companies can rake in billions of dollars from taxpayers while abandoning its own customers. PUCO should block AT&T Ohio's attempt to leave the Lifeline program.

I am a disabled person. For decades I have paid ATT to provide necessary phone service in rural areas and to low-income people because there was a NEED. While I have not needed those particular services, I am appalled that this corporate giant believes it can abandon citizens while it rakes in billions of dollars over taxpayer and federally controlled and allocated airwaves.

Its demands, as well as those other "telecommunication" giants have already decimated access to local TV and potentially radio in the near future with the blessing of politicians who do not represent people like me. And those changes have not improved communication in our lives: consistently dropped phone calls; lack of service; software defects; stealing then selling private information - just so the "little people" can communicate with one another - while declaring themselves privileged to this abuse because they "provide a service". And utility oversight committees believe that is all okay - because cellphones are "entertainment"!

Telephone service is not a voluntary service. It is a necessity in our modern world.

Simple communication must not be a commodity.

Obtaining news in our area and region must not be a commodity.

Politicians, regulators and corporate behemoths have not properly represented the common citizen in ensuring the initial mandates that created the FCC. Instead, they have whittled away those rights citizens were once guaranteed because the government used to believe it had a responsibility to protect common citizens from abuses of communications corporations.

I am fed up and frustrated, as a disabled person, with continually being told that I have to buy and upgrade ever more-complex technology and software just to communicate with a friend, a government agency, a utility, my doctors, etc., or to get local news.

Sincerely,

Diane L. Hallum

”

Diane, Cuyahoga

“After making $2.1 billion from the December corporate tax cut, AT&T wants to abandon Ohioans by withdrawing from the Lifeline program.

AT&T Ohio's withdrawal would affect over 10,000 customers, including those in low-income households, the elderly, and our veterans. It is despicable that AT&T would throw Ohioans in need under the bus, especially at a time when their profits are skyrocketing.

Approving AT&T's request would signal that companies can rake in billions of dollars from taxpayers while abandoning its own customers. PUCO should block AT&T Ohio's attempt to leave the Lifeline program.

Sincerely,

A concerned Ohioan

”

Natalia, Cuyahoga

"After making $2.1 billion from the December corporate tax cut, AT&T wants to abandon Ohioans by withdrawing from the Lifeline program.

AT&T Ohio's withdrawal would affect over 10,000 customers, including those in low-income households, the elderly, and our veterans. It is despicable that AT&T would throw Ohioans in need under the bus, especially at a time when their profits are skyrocketing.

Approving AT&T's request would signal that companies can rake in billions of dollars from taxpayers while abandoning its own customers. PUCO should block AT&T Ohio's attempt to leave the Lifeline program.

Sincerely,

A concerned Ohioan

"

K, Cuyahoga

“After making $2.1 billion from the December corporate tax cut, AT&T wants to abandon Ohioans by withdrawing from the Lifeline program.

AT&T Ohio's withdrawal would affect over 10,000 customers, including those in low-income households, the elderly, and our veterans. It is despicable that AT&T would throw Ohioans in need under the bus, especially at a time when their profits are skyrocketing.

Approving AT&T's request would signal that companies can rake in billions of dollars from taxpayers while abandoning its own customers. PUCO should block AT&T Ohio's attempt to leave the Lifeline program.

Sincerely,

A concerned Ohioan

”

Belinda, Cuyahoga

“After making $2.1 billion from the December corporate tax cut, AT&T wants to abandon Ohioans by withdrawing from the Lifeline program.

AT&T Ohio's withdrawal would affect over 10,000 customers, including those in low-income households, the elderly, and our veterans. It is despicable that AT&T would throw Ohioans in need under the bus, especially at a time when their profits are skyrocketing.

Approving AT&T's request would signal that companies can rake in billions of dollars from taxpayers while abandoning its own customers. PUCO should block AT&T Ohio's attempt to leave the Lifeline program.

Sincerely,

A concerned Ohioan

”

Kasumi, Cuyahoga

"After making $2.1 billion from the December corporate tax cut, AT&T wants to abandon Ohioans by withdrawing from the Lifeline program.

AT&T Ohio's withdrawal would affect over 10,000 customers, including those in low-income households, the elderly, and our veterans. It is despicable that AT&T would throw Ohioans in need under the bus, especially at a time when their profits are skyrocketing.

Approving AT&T's request would signal that companies can rake in billions of dollars from taxpayers while abandoning its own customers. PUCO should block AT&T Ohio's attempt to leave the Lifeline program.

Sincerely,

A concerned Ohioan

"

Lorna, Cuyahoga

“After making $2.1 billion from the December corporate tax cut, AT&T wants to abandon Ohioans by withdrawing from the Lifeline program.

AT&T Ohio's withdrawal would affect over 10,000 customers, including those in low-income households, the elderly, and our veterans. It is despicable that AT&T would throw Ohioans in need under the bus, especially at a time when their profits are skyrocketing.

Approving AT&T's request would signal that companies can rake in billions of dollars from taxpayers while abandoning its own customers. PUCO should block AT&T Ohio's attempt to leave the Lifeline program.

Sincerely,

A concerned Ohioan

”

Robert, Cuyahoga

"After making $2.1 billion from the December corporate tax cut, AT&T wants to abandon Ohioans by withdrawing from the Lifeline program.

AT&T Ohio's withdrawal would affect over 10,000 customers, including those in low-income households, the elderly, and our veterans. It is despicable that AT&T would throw Ohioans in need under the bus, especially at a time when their profits are skyrocketing.

Approving AT&T's request would signal that companies can rake in billions of dollars from taxpayers while abandoning its own customers. PUCO should block AT&T Ohio's attempt to leave the Lifeline program.

Sincerely,

A concerned Ohioan

"

Barbara, Cuyahoga

"After making $2.1 billion from the December corporate tax cut, AT&T wants to abandon Ohioans by withdrawing from the Lifeline program.

AT&T Ohio's withdrawal would affect over 10,000 customers, including those in low-income households, the elderly, and our veterans. It is despicable that AT&T would throw Ohioans in need under the bus, especially at a time when their profits are skyrocketing.

Approving AT&T's request would signal that companies can rake in billions of dollars from taxpayers while abandoning its own customers. PUCO should block AT&T Ohio's attempt to leave the Lifeline program.

Sincerely,

A concerned Ohioan

"

Mary, Cuyahoga

"After making $2.1 billion from the December corporate tax cut, AT&T wants to abandon Ohioans by withdrawing from the Lifeline program.

AT&T Ohio's withdrawal would affect over 10,000 customers, including those in low-income households, the elderly, and our veterans. It is despicable that AT&T would throw Ohioans in need under the bus, especially at a time when their profits are skyrocketing.

Approving AT&T's request would signal that companies can rake in billions of dollars from taxpayers while abandoning its own customers. PUCO should block AT&T Ohio's attempt to leave the Lifeline program.

Sincerely,

A concerned Ohioan

"

Melissa, Cuyahoga

1.
“After making $2.1 billion from the December corporate tax cut, AT&T wants to abandon Ohioans by withdrawing from the Lifeline program.

AT&T Ohio's withdrawal would affect over 10,000 customers, including those in low-income households, the elderly, and our veterans. It is despicable that AT&T would throw Ohioans in need under the bus, especially at a time when their profits are skyrocketing.

Approving AT&T's request would signal that companies can rake in billions of dollars from taxpayers while abandoning its own customers. PUCO should block AT&T Ohio's attempt to leave the Lifeline program.

Sincerely,

A concerned Ohioan

”

John, Cuyahoga

“After making $2.1 billion from the December corporate tax cut, AT&T wants to abandon Ohioans by withdrawing from the Lifeline program.

AT&T Ohio's withdrawal would affect over 10,000 customers, including those in low-income households, the elderly, and our veterans. It is despicable that AT&T would throw Ohioans in need under the bus, especially at a time when their profits are skyrocketing.

Approving AT&T's request would signal that companies can rake in billions of dollars from taxpayers while abandoning its own customers. PUCO should block AT&T Ohio's attempt to leave the Lifeline program.

Sincerely,

A concerned Ohioan

”

Mary, Cuyahoga

“After making $2.1 billion from the December corporate tax cut, AT&T wants to abandon Ohioans by withdrawing from the Lifeline program.

AT&T Ohio's withdrawal would affect over 10,000 customers, including those in low-income households, the elderly, and our veterans. It is despicable that AT&T would throw Ohioans in need under the bus, especially at a time when their profits are skyrocketing.

Approving AT&T's request would signal that companies can rake in billions of dollars from taxpayers while abandoning its own customers. PUCO should block AT&T Ohio's attempt to leave the Lifeline program.

Sincerely,

A concerned Ohioan

”

Frank, Cuyahoga

"After making $2.1 billion from the December corporate tax cut, AT&T wants to abandon Ohioans by withdrawing from the Lifeline program.

AT&T Ohio's withdrawal would affect over 10,000 customers, including those in low-income households, the elderly, and our veterans. It is despicable that AT&T would throw Ohioans in need under the bus, especially at a time when their profits are skyrocketing.

Approving AT&T's request would signal that companies can rake in billions of dollars from taxpayers while abandoning its own customers. PUCO should block AT&T Ohio's attempt to leave the Lifeline program.

Sincerely,

A concerned Ohioan

"

Patty, Cuyahoga

"After making $2.1 billion from the December corporate tax cut, AT&T wants to abandon Ohioans by withdrawing from the Lifeline program.

AT&T Ohio's withdrawal would affect over 10,000 customers, including those in low-income households, the elderly, and our veterans. It is despicable that AT&T would throw Ohioans in need under the bus, especially at a time when their profits are skyrocketing.

Approving AT&T's request would signal that companies can rake in billions of dollars from taxpayers while abandoning its own customers. PUCO should block AT&T Ohio's attempt to leave the Lifeline program.

Sincerely,

A concerned Ohioan

"

E, Cuyahoga

“After making $2.1 billion from the December corporate tax cut, AT&T wants to abandon Ohioans by withdrawing from the Lifeline program.

AT&T Ohio's withdrawal would affect over 10,000 customers, including those in low-income households, the elderly, and our veterans. It is despicable that AT&T would throw Ohioans in need under the bus, especially at a time when their profits are skyrocketing.

Approving AT&T's request would signal that companies can rake in billions of dollars from taxpayers while abandoning its own customers. PUCO should block AT&T Ohio's attempt to leave the Lifeline program.

Sincerely,

A concerned Ohioan

”

Carol, Cuyahoga

1.
“After making $2.1 billion from the December corporate tax cut, AT&T wants to abandon Ohioans by withdrawing from the Lifeline program.

AT&T Ohio's withdrawal would affect over 10,000 customers, including those in low-income households, the elderly, and our veterans. It is despicable that AT&T would throw Ohioans in need under the bus, especially at a time when their profits are skyrocketing.

Approving AT&T's request would signal that companies can rake in billions of dollars from taxpayers while abandoning its own customers. PUCO should block AT&T Ohio's attempt to leave the Lifeline program.

Sincerely,

A concerned Ohioan

”

Lisa, Cuyahoga

"After making $2.1 billion from the December corporate tax cut, AT&T wants to abandon Ohioans by withdrawing from the Lifeline program.

AT&T Ohio's withdrawal would affect over 10,000 customers, including those in low-income households, the elderly, and our veterans. It is despicable that AT&T would throw Ohioans in need under the bus, especially at a time when their profits are skyrocketing.

Approving AT&T's request would signal that companies can rake in billions of dollars from taxpayers while abandoning its own customers. PUCO should block AT&T Ohio's attempt to leave the Lifeline program.

Sincerely,

A concerned Ohioan

"

Brian, Cuyahoga