No. 4 Ohio State's last game minus Meyer a test vs No. 15 TCU

ARLINGTON, Texas (AP) — Ohio State has made it through two games fine without Urban Meyer. Now the No. 4 Buckeyes face their toughest test on the last Saturday before their suspended coach can return to the sideline.

No. 15 TCU (2-0) hasn't faced a disruptive defensive front like Ohio State. But the Buckeyes (2-0), with their very accurate new starting quarterback Dwayne Haskins, also haven't been challenged the way they will be by coach Gary Patterson's 4-2-5 defense.

"They have all the answers. Any time a defense has been together that long, they have seen so many different things come their way," Buckeyes acting head coach Ryan Day said. "They make quick adjustments. They know exactly how you're trying to attack them."

Four seasons after Ohio State jumped over Big 12 co-champions TCU and Baylor for the fourth and final spot in the inaugural College Football Playoff, the Horned Frogs get their shot against the Buckeyes in the same stadium where Meyer led them to a national title.

There has been a building buzz around the TCU campus, only about 20 minutes from AT&T Stadium, but the Frogs don't need this as any kind of measuring stick.

TCU and Ohio State are among only five teams (Alabama, Clemson and Oklahoma are the others) who have finished in the Top 10 in the final AP poll at least three times in the past four years. The Frogs played in the Big 12 championship game last season.

"Everybody that you know of that's come from this program has put TCU where we are, and I don't think any specific game will let you know that we deserve to be at a certain place," senior center Niko Small said. "I think we've already put the tradition in and everybody knows that TCU is going to play hard regardless of who we're playing."

Meyer will wrap up his three-game suspension for mismanaging domestic-abuse allegations and other misconduct by former assistant Zach Smith, though the head coach has been able to take part in Ohio State practices since after the season opener.

Another person who will be nowhere nearby Saturday night is Gordon Gee, the man who gets a lot of credit for this Top 25 matchup coming together.

Gee's "Little Sisters of the Poor" remark as Ohio State's president nearly eight years ago came before the Frogs finished their undefeated 2010 season with a Rose Bowl victory, and before they were in the Big 12. When the athletic directors from TCU and Ohio State were at the same meeting in early 2011, they went from chatting to deciding to play each other in the future.

"I was privileged to serve as president of The Ohio State University for 14 years and I love the Buckeyes! I am also now privileged to be in the Big 12 and serve as chairman of the conference, and I have great admiration for TCU and its football program," said Gee, now president at West Virginia. "In deference to both teams, I will be watching the WVU women's soccer game on Saturday."

Some other things to know when Ohio State plays TCU for the first time since 1973, and first time ever away from Columbus, Ohio:

DISRUPTIVE BOSA
As expected, Ohio State's All-American defensive end Nick Bosa has been hard to stop. He already has five tackles for loss and three sacks among his nine tackles in two games. Defensive coordinator Greg Schiano said Bosa is "playing at a very high level" even while teams use multiple players to try to slow him down. "We are going to have to be aware of that because I think it will get more and more creative every week because he is such a special player," Schiano said.

SPECIAL SCORES
TCU has had punt returns for touchdowns in its past three games, by three different players. The Horned Frogs are the only FBS school since 1996 to do that.

KaVontae Turpin had a 78-yard punt return for a TD last week against SMU. Turpin's four career punt returns for a TD are a school record, as are his five special teams touchdowns.

CONTAINING ROBINSON
Containing TCU's dual-threat quarterback Shawn Robinson will be a different challenge for Ohio State. The sophomore passed for 146 yards, a touchdown and an interception, and also rushed for 67 yards and another score in TCU's 42-12 rain-soaked win over SMU. Schiano said a running quarterback "changes all the math" because a defender has to account for him at all times.

BACK TO JERRY WORLD
Both teams played at AT&T Stadium last December: TCU lost to Oklahoma in the Big 12 title game, and Ohio State beat USC 24-7 in the Cotton Bowl. The Buckeyes' only other game there was that CFP title game in January 2015. TCU is 2-2 in the home stadium of the NFL's Dallas Cowboys.

Clemson forges ahead, with storm looming

By The Associated Press

Second-ranked Clemson is the only major conference school in the Carolinas and Virginia that will play its scheduled football game this weekend as Hurricane Florence looms.

Several schools across the three states canceled, re-scheduled or relocated games ahead of the storm, citing safety concerns.

Clemson officials say they are monitoring the storm's path and believe there were no issues in playing Saturday's game against Georgia Southern. Clemson has moved up the start time to noon EST from the original 3:30 p.m. kickoff.

Clemson athletic director Dan Radakovich not respond to messages left by The Associated Press, but he did say Thursday on Sirius XM radio that fan and team safety is his top priority. He said the information Clemson has is the effects of Florence on the northwest corner of South Carolina (Clemson's location) would not be impacted until late Saturday or early Sunday. "Everybody would have ample time to get back to wherever their homestead is after the game," Radakovich said.

They'll have to do it with the help of fewer state troopers. Capt. Kelley Hughes of the South Carolina Highway Patrol said instead of the typically 100-to-110 troopers would help with traffic there will be just 16 on site Saturday.

The rest of the responsibility would fall to local and regional law enforcement entities like campus, county or city police near Clemson, Hughes said.

Radakovich said that's happened before, most notably in 2015 when Clemson hosted Notre Dame in a drenching rainstorm that led to historic and fatal flooding in South Carolina.

Graham outshoots Raiders on links

BELLEFONTAINE — Graham's Andy Milligan fired a 29 as the Falcons defeated Ben Logan 152-175 in a Central Buckeye Conference golf match on Thursday.

"He was going so good we were all pulling for him. You just have to appreciate good golf," Ben Logan coach Chris Conley said.

Ethan Ricketts led the Raiders with a 35, while Garrett Allen and Bryce Loomis both carded 45s and Kaiden Weaks had a 46. Trey Allen had a 47 and Jacob Mitchell carded a 49.

Reyes goal lifts Ada soccer to 1-0 victory

ADA — Chris Reyes scored the lone goal to lift Ada to a 1-0 win over Cory-Rawson in a North Central Ohio Soccer Association match on Thursday afternoon.

Brendan Sheridan had an assist for the Bulldogs, while Drew Hadley made saves in goal.

Ada improves to 4-2 on the season.

No other information was received from the match., Kenton travels to Lima Senior on Tuesday.

Dalton leads Bengals over Ravens

CINCINNATI (AP) — Andy Dalton has turned into a big pain for the Baltimore Ravens.

He threw four touchdown passes on Thursday night — three of them to A.J. Green — as the Cincinnati Bengals got ahead big and held on for a 34-23 victory that left them alone atop the AFC North.

It's an unaccustomed spot for Cincinnati, which is off to its first 2-0 start since it won the division title in 2015.

Coach Marvin Lewis received a contract extension in part because of Dalton's 49-yard touchdown pass to Tyler Boyd in the closing seconds of the final game at Baltimore last season, which gave the Bengals a victory and knocked the Ravens out of playoff contention. Dalton made the big plays again on Thursday, leaving the Ravens (1-1) too far behind to catch up.

"We came out hot," Dalton said. "That's exactly how we wanted to start the game. That's a big one — puts us 2-0 to start the year and gives us a leg up in the division."

Down by 21 points, the Ravens made a run at it behind Joe Flacco, who threw a pair of touchdown passes. Flacco fumbled with 2:42 to go — Shawn Williams stripped the ball from behind — setting up a field goal by Randy Bullock that closed it out.

Flacco finished 32 of 55 for 376 yards with two touchdowns, two interceptions, a fumble and four sacks.

"You better bounce back quick on a Thursday night and we didn't do it quick enough tonight," Flacco said.

Some takeaways from Cincinnati's win:

SEEING GREEN: Green set a career high with his touchdown catches of 4, 32 and 7 yards. He became the fourth Bengals receiver to catch three TD passes in a half, joining Marvin Jones (2013), Chad Johnson (2003) and Isaac Curtis (1973). Green was upset with himself after fumbling twice in a 34-23 win at Indianapolis on Sunday, and he caught everything thrown his way early on.

"It just happened to fall that way," Green said. "We were clicking on all cylinders. We were in a groove."

DALTON'S DAY: Heading into the game, Dalton had thrown more interceptions (17) than touchdowns (15) against the Ravens, including a four-interception performance at Paul Brown Stadium last year. He finished 24 of 42 for 265 yards with no interceptions and no sacks. It was the fourth time he's thrown four touchdown passes in a game. His career high is five against the Jets in 2013.

NOT THE BILLS: The Ravens were coming off their third-most lopsided win in club history, a 47-3 victory over Buffalo on Sunday. Flacco was sharp in two-plus quarters, throwing touchdown passes to three different receivers. But the Bengals gave him a tough time early, sacking him on each of Baltimore's first three possessions and forcing a pass that was picked off.

"It was tough sledding early on, and we weren't very precise," Flacco said.

FAST START: The Bengals are 2-0 for only the fifth time in Lewis' 16 seasons. They're the first team to score at least 34 points in each of their first two games since the 2013 Broncos, who reached the Super Bowl, according to ESPN Stats & Info.
