RE: *Memorandum Contra Filed by the Ohio Manufacturers' Association
Energy Group in Case Nos. 18-501-EL-FOR, et al.

Dear Docketing:

Due to our haste in filing the Joint Motion to Exclude Testimony in the above-referenced proceeding by the noon deadline, we inadvertently filed the incorrect title page and certificate of service. We hereby file the corrected title page and certificate of service, and will serve the parties of record with OMAEG's corrected pleading, as required by Ohio Adm. Code 4901-1-05. We apologize for any inconvenience this may have caused.

Please do not hesitate to contact me if there are any questions.

Sincerely,

Brian W. Dressel

OHIO PARTNERS FOR AFFORDABLE ENERGY'S
JOINT MOTION TO EXCLUDE WITNESS
BY THE OHIO MANUFACTURERS' ASSOCIATION ENERGY GROUP

I. INTRODUCTION

In all cases that it considers, the Public Utilities Commission of Ohio (Commission) benefits from the testimony and expertise of learned experts in the areas of law and policy at issue before it. Each litigated case presents its own facts and the collective decades of experience held by the witnesses who submit testimony and evidence assists the Commission in processing those facts to render a decision that accords with Ohio law. Although the case is heard by administrative law judges with expertise in the industry, the case is ultimately decided by the Commissioners that make up the Commission. R.C. 4901.02. Commissioners who hail from a variety of backgrounds within the industry's ambit are able to carefully consider the matters before them and apply their experience to the evidence in the record in rendering decisions. The statute establishing the Commission specifically states the qualifications of the Commissioners, encouraging those with experience in a variety of fields to apply. R.C.
