To the Ohio Power Siting Board,

As a student of Ohio State University, I strongly oppose the construction of a fracked gas plant. Not only will it be constructed on our campus, but it will also pollute the student body and the Columbus community. Fracking is known to be extremely harmful to the environment as it not only pollutes the air but also the water. We're currently going through a climate crisis, and this will only make it worse, and it will also make Columbus and Ohio State University a more polluted area and ruin the community.

I strongly oppose the construction of the plant and demand a third hearing during the school year to also allow student voices to be heard, as we will also be heavily affected by this issue. It's undemocratic to not include the student body in this decision.

Sincerely,
Nicole Nowicki
