The emerging debate is highly reminiscent of the partisan divide over the 2009 financial rescue in the early months of the Obama administration, when Biden was vice president, echoing those battles over the appropriate level of government intervention.

American Transmission Systems, Incorporated (“ATSI”), a FirstEnergy company, is proposing to construct the Highland-Magellan No.2 138 kV Transmission Line Project (“Project”), in a Letter of Notification Application submitted to the Ohio Power Siting Board (“Board”) for a Certificate of Environmental Compatibility and Public Need.

The Project is located within new transmission line right-of-way in the Village of Lordstown, Trumbull County, Ohio. The new transmission line, which will be named the Highland-Magellan No.2 138 kV Transmission Line, will provide a third 138 kV source to Ultium Cells LLC, the customer served from Magellan Substation. The new transmission line will utilize approximately 2 miles of open arm position on the existing steel lattice towers that support the Highland-Lordstown No.1 345 kV Transmission Line and approximately 1.5 miles of new construction on steel and wood structures. The new transmission line will connect the Magellan and Highland Substations.
