AT&T OHIO'S MOTION FOR WAIVER

The Ohio Bell Telephone Company d/b/a AT&T Ohio ("AT&T Ohio"), by its attorney and pursuant to O.A.C. §§ 4901-1-12 and 4901:1-6-02(E) – (G), seeks a waiver from the requirement of O.A.C. § 4901:1-6-23 that it must provide a pay telephone access line and local usage on the pay telephone access line to payphone service providers, within its normal installation intervals, upon request. The Company seeks a permanent waiver of the rule. This will allow the Company to "grandfather" its existing pay telephone access line service, as proposed in this case.<sup>1</sup>

MEMORANDUM IN SUPPORT

O.A.C. § 4901:1-6-23 ("Rule 23") provides that an incumbent local exchange carrier ("ILEC"), such as AT&T Ohio, must provide a pay telephone access line and local usage on the pay telephone access line to payphone service providers, within its normal installation intervals, upon request. This requirement, while "still on the books," is contrary to the underlying statutory scheme and other Commission rules. The Commission should waive the requirement, as requested here, and should proceed to amend the rule so it is consistent with current law.

<sup>1</sup> By "grandfathering" this service pursuant to its current application, the Company would not make it available to new customers, which are private payphone providers. Under the waiver as proposed, though, the Company could eventually withdraw the service following the applicable procedure.

Following the filing of its prior application in Case No. 21-0522-TP-ATA, the Commission Staff contacted the Company and expressed two concerns. First, Staff pointed to Rule 23, and suggested that the requirement to provide a pay telephone access line “upon request” under the terms of the rule means that the service cannot be grandfathered or withdrawn. Second, Staff suggested that R. C. § 4927.15 requires that pay telephone access lines be offered and not just tariffed if offered. This position implicates the rule that implements that statute as well, O.A.C. § 4901:1-6-11 (“Rule 11”).

AT&T Ohio agrees with the Staff that, as currently written, Rule 23 stands in the way of the Company’s grandfathering proposal. However, a review of the entirety of Chapter 4927 (and especially the significant amendments to it that were adopted in 2010) shows that Rule 23 cannot require the offering of payphone access lines “upon request.”<sup>2</sup> The General Assembly has clearly set forth the services that must be offered by an ILEC. R. C. § 4927.11 generally requires that an ILEC “shall provide basic local exchange service to all persons or entities in its service area requesting that service . . . .” (Emphasis added.) R. C. § 4905.71 requires the ILECs to permit pole attachments and conduit occupancy under the terms of that statute. R. C. Chapter 128 generally requires the ILECs (and other telephone companies) to provide 9-1-1 service within their respective territories. In connection with 9-1-1 service, R. C. § 4927.09 requires <sup>2</sup> 2010’s Senate Bill 162 was the first major telecom reform bill enacted since House Bill 563 in 1988. It repealed 34 antiquated provisions of the law (including some that still referred to telegraph companies), limited the application of 28 other provisions, and rescinded 44 PUCO rules.

every telephone company (including ILECs) providing telephone exchange service to maintain access to 9-1-1 service on a residential customer's line for a minimum of fourteen consecutive days immediately following any disconnection for nonpayment of a customer's telephone exchange service. These statutory requirements have been properly implemented in the Commission's rules. However, no statute requires the offering of pay telephone access lines "upon request" or otherwise.

As to the Staff's second point, that R. C. § 4927.15 and its corresponding rule, O.A.C. § 4901:1-6-11, both require that pay telephone access lines be offered and not just tariffed if offered, the Staff is simply wrong. R. C. § 4927.15(A)(1) provides, in pertinent part, that:

"(t)he rates, terms, and conditions for . . . each of the following provided in this state by a telephone company shall be approved and tariffed in the manner prescribed by rule adopted by the public utilities commission and shall be subject to the applicable laws, including rules or regulations adopted and orders issued by the commission or the federal communications commission:

(b) Pay telephone access lines

(Emphasis added.)

AT&T Ohio agrees that if pay telephone access lines are offered, they must be tariffed under the statute and its corresponding Rule 11. But if pay telephone access lines were required to be offered, the General Assembly would have so stated in clear language, as it did in the several provisions described above that require the specified services to be offered.<sup>3</sup> However, it did not do so. Rather, it left the offering of pay telephone access lines to the telephone companies' discretion.

<sup>3</sup> Some of the services that are required to be tariffed are required to be offered under federal law or rules. Pay telephone access lines are not among those services.

To conclude that pay telephone access lines must be offered, upon request or otherwise, would conflict with provisions of general applicability adopted in S. B. 162 and implemented in the Commission's rules. R. C. § 4927.07(A) provides, in pertinent part, that:

Except as provided under the notice requirements of section 4927.10 of the Revised Code [which are not applicable here], a telephone company may withdraw any telecommunications service if it gives at least thirty days' prior notice to the public utilities commission and to its affected customers.

(Emphasis added.) The Commission rule implementing this provision states as follows:

(A) Except as provided in paragraphs (B), (D), and (E) of this rule, a telephone company may cease offering any telecommunications service, by providing a notice of withdrawal of such service or services.

(D) Withdrawal of tariffed services other than BLES

A telephone company may not cease offering any services required to be tariffed pursuant to paragraphs (A)(1)(b) to (A)(1)(i) of rule 4901:1-6-11 of the Administrative Code, without first filing an application to withdraw such service(s) from its tariff, using the most up-to-date telecommunications filing form, and without obtaining prior commission approval. Such an application shall be designated under a TP-UNC case purpose code and shall not be subject to an automatic approval process.

O.A.C. § 4901:1-6-25 (emphasis added). AT&T agrees that this provision requires it to file an application to withdraw (or grandfather) pay telephone access lines, because they are among the services required to be tariffed, specifically under Rule 11(A)(i)(e). The rule language clearly contemplates the withdrawal of services that are required to be tariffed, requires prior Commission approval for such withdrawal, but does not prohibit such withdrawal. This language trumps any conflicting language in Rule 23.

It is also pertinent that several provisions of R. C. § 4927.15 that prohibit the withdrawal of certain services do not mention pay telephone access lines:

- (C) Divisions (A) and (B) of this section do not apply to any of the following:
- (1) Pole attachments under section 4905.71 of the Revised Code;
  - (2) Conduit occupancy under section 4905.71 of the Revised Code;
  - (3) Interconnection and resale agreements approved under the "Telecommunications Act of 1996," 110 Stat. 56, 47 U.S.C. 151 et seq., as amended.
- (D) Except as provided in section 4927.10 of the Revised Code, an incumbent local exchange carrier may not withdraw or abandon basic local exchange service.
- (E) Neither a telephone company nor an incumbent local exchange carrier may, without first filing a request with the commission and obtaining commission approval, withdraw any tariff filed with the commission for pole attachments or conduit occupancy under section 4905.71 of the Revised Code or abandon service provided under that section.

R. C. § 4927.15. In summary, there is no statutory provision that prevents the grandfathering or withdrawal of pay telephone access lines.

One of the most important provisions adopted in S.B. 162 was the following:

(D) Except as specifically authorized in sections 4927.01 to 4927.21 of the Revised Code, the commission has no authority over the quality of service and the service rates, terms, and conditions of telecommunications service provided to end users by a telephone company.

R. C. § 4927.03 (emphasis added). This means that, while the Commission's process for the grandfathering or withdrawal of pay telephone access lines can stand, a rule that prohibits their grandfathering or withdrawal cannot.

It is interesting to note that the Rule 23 "upon request" language was not challenged in the original rulemaking implementing S. B. 162, Case No. 10-1010-TP-ORD, or in the five-year review of the adopted rules in Case No. 14-1544-TP-ORD, in which Rule 23 was not changed. This may be explained by the focus of S. B. 162 - - basic local exchange service - - and the lack of focus on matters such as pay telephone access lines. The passage of time, however, does not correct a fatal defect in the Commission's rule.<sup>4</sup>

Agency rules must be consistent with the law. Viewed today, under the standards applicable to the review of agency rules by the Joint Committee on Agency Rule Review, Rule 23 fails the first three tests:

If, upon reviewing a proposed rule or revised proposed rule, the joint committee on agency rule review makes any of the following findings with regard to the proposed rule or revised proposed rule, the joint committee may recommend to the senate and house of representatives the adoption of a concurrent resolution to invalidate the proposed rule or revised proposed rule or a part thereof:

(A) The proposed rule or revised proposed rule exceeds the scope of its statutory authority.

(B) The proposed rule or revised proposed rule conflicts with the legislative intent of the statute under which it was proposed.

(C) The proposed rule or revised proposed rule conflicts with another proposed or existing rule.

R. C. § 106.021 (emphasis added).

For all the foregoing reasons, AT&T Ohio's requested waiver should be granted for an unlimited period of time. The Commission should also undertake to review and amend Rule 23 accordingly.
