It appears that my house itself is roughly 1500ft from a tower and the edge of my property less than 1000ft. I have not been contacted in any form and had to hear about the wind far by chance and came to your sight to look it up. Is there anything I can or should be doing? Are there any possible issue's to my family's health from the under/above ground power lines that this would include? |
