To the voting members of the OPSB:

Food Shortage is Happening!!

Lanny took these pictures Thursday, April 28, 2022 about 12:20 p.m. in the east Findlay Walmart.

Glad I didn't want eggs

Had lettuce but no other produce

Wow, food shortage is happening already.

We need to save our prime farmland to feed the world.

Guess we need to start raising chickens too.

Good article to read:

Looming food shortages is the next 'slow-moving disaster' to hit the world

Do you want to starve the people and have them die for the sake of toxic inefficient solar panels that only produce electricity when the sun shines?

We want electricity 24/7 and not intermittently with rolling black outs.

We are to leave this world a better place than when we came into it, not destroy it for the next generation!!

Do the right thing, stop the solar project, and save our prime farmland for our future generations!!

Thank you,
Lanny & Mary Jo Boes
