We are in complete favor of the Birch Solar Project especially as we are facing so many difficult situations today. As ugly and horrific the Russian invasion is on the moral side, it has also affected much of the world's source of energy; whereas the need would not be as great if we had more solar energy output. Added to this need is also the terrible position we as a world have become in our relation to climate control. In addition, the Birch Solar Project will benefit us economically. John and Bev Foster
