DOCKETING CASE #:21-0637-GA-AIR

SUBJECT: Columbia Gas of Ohio - Protest Rate Case

Disproportionately raising the price of the service fee for natural gas by doubling and potentially tripling within the next couple years is crazy. I understand the necessity to increase the service fee, just it should be done at a smaller increment stair step method over a longer period of time. It's not the consumer's fault that they haven't adjusted their service fees once since 2008. To me, it seems that they're trying to make up for "lost time"
