CUSTOMER COMMENTS:

"The proposed 27% increase to Columbia's delivery service charges is detrimental to many residents of all income levels. For us, it could mean that our bill will become our highest expense next to our mortgage, make it difficult to cook food for our family, or question whether we can heat our home sufficiently in the winter months. Unlike some utility providers, there are not often multiple providers to choose from and the cost of retrofitting to new appliances is impossible. This could be the beginning of many families being priced out of a basic necessity and sets a worrisome precedent."
