Comment: the economy is suffering, groceries are priced off the charts, gasoline is the highest I have ever seen and now you want to add to the misery, of not even being able to stay warm, i know a sinking ship when i see one, this country is in for a sad time and you are being totally callus and no regard for the people who have paid your salaries for years. The misery index is high, and you just kicked it up a notch. I am a person of faith and I won't give up hope, hope that there is some sanity left in this world.
