I enjoy being outdoors and watching the sunset over the corn fields. Being surrounded by nature gives such a feeling of peace and happiness that just isn't the same when encroached upon by man made structures. I don't personally know of anyone who would prefer having a solar panel farm next to their land instead of acres of farm land with roaming wildlife . I am sure the deer would agree that farmland is much more suitable to live around than solar panels. I wouldn't doubt that more people would be supportive of solar panel farms if they were not near a populated area. I believe clean energy is good when put in an

area that will not negatively affect the surrounding wildlife and people living nearby. This project will make this part of Ohio less desirable to live in. Please don't take away from the natural beauty that our area has to offer.
