As a multi generational farmer it's sad to see highly productive farm ground destroyed for solar panels. Isn't there less productive ground that could be utilized? I think Madison county has already contributed enough to green energy. These solar fields are destroying our roads and are creating huge eye sores. How is any family farm supposed to expand or grow when the most productive soils are destroyed. Even if they resort back to the owner, the damage is done. I have witnessed earth movers burying huge amounts of topsoil under sub soil. Ripping out field tile, that affects neighbors. I cannot see the reward for all of this destruction. It's hard to keep your family farm established when the ground around them is going away. Please stop this solar field in oak run township from destroying family farms.
