For roughly 40 percent of the area a consideration is that all the road frontage be sold off for housing (about 8 miles) the remainder donated to a non profit church to be used solely for the recreation of disadvantaged youth. Also to the question of the trickle down effect in the economy and economic effect. It seems logical to think under a project scenario there is more money from outside the local economy to trickle down. While those disbursements may not all be focused on agricultural inputs they certainly stand to strengthen other sectors of the economy. It seems lost in some parties considerations that
