SUBJECT: Cleveland Electric Illuminating Company - Protest Rate Case
Please docket the associated customer comment and/or attached in the case number referenced above under "Public Comments". This information was received by the Consumer Services Division through alternate channels and is being forwarded to be filed formally. This information is not the opinion of Staff and should not be viewed as such. Interesting that earlier this year I declined to enroll in 'Clean Energy' due to the cost of their rates, and once I decided to stay with good old First Energy who would save me money, since I'm retired with a fixed income at nearly poverty level, that First Energy then decides it needs more funds to do what it should be doing all along. But yes, go ahead, bail them out and instead, punish the consumers by raising rates. You are shooting yourself in the foot in the long run when customers finally get fed up and opt out of your organization to enroll with another company.
