"Climate scientists warn the window in which to stop runaway climate change is still open, but just barely. Ohio has one of the worst renewable and clean energy to fossil fuel ratio for its electric grid compared to the other states. Your constituents want you to switch to solar, onshore and offshore wind, and nuclear. Your constituents do not want you to use methane leaking natural gas and coal for your electric grids. As one of the worst fossil fuel burning states in one of the highest greenhouse gas emissions, you bear significant responsibility for the climate crisis which affects most those that contribute the least to it. Please switch your energy sources to clean renewable energy. This is not only the ethical choice, it's the smart economic choice, as fossil fuels will be prohibitively expensive as the years go on and climate change gets worse."
