Project Name:	Clear Mountain Energy Center
Enter your Comment	Solar energy is the way to go, and Clear Mountain Energy Center is a shining example of how our community can move in the direction that's needed. If a landowner wants to add solar energy to a portion (or all) of their farm, I completely support that decision. If another person does not wish to do the same, then I support their choice as well. If I had the opportunity, I would do it myself. Unfortunately, many of us don't have the

The demand for renewables is high for many reasons, and to deny someone the right to supply a product that is in high demand is akin to government overreach. We live in a free country with a market economy. Having the right to use one's property to produce what the market is demanding is an expression of the freedom that our great nation is known for.
