	I'd like to voice my support for Oak Run Solar Project, a great local economic development opportunity in Madison County. When a private sector industry is willing to step up and make such an important investment in our community, we need to seize the opportunity. I believe projects like this one are needed to keep Madison County's economy moving; we should

These numbers are impressive: $7.2 million per year and $252 million over the expected 35-year operating life of the project. I've worked for over a decade in the utility scale solar industry. I just heard Jack Van Kley representing nearby landowners on an NPR show and unfortunately he doesn't really get it. Noise from solar inverters is minimal even during peak sunshine hours and those units are typically located towards the interior of a sites further mitigating any noise concerns. Farm machinery, lawn equipment and our beloved pick-up trucks are, I think, much more disturbing.
