Dear Customer:

NEXTLINK Ohio is delighted to be your new long distance carrier. A recent merger between your carrier, Chadwick Telecommunications Corporation, Inc., and NEXTLINK Ohio has given us the opportunity to show you the next level of service from a phone company, but first, some background on who we are.

NEXTLINK Ohio is a new kind of company. We have been competing with Ameritech since May 1997, providing local and long distance service to business customers on our own state-of-the-art fiber optic network. While building our company around the needs and wishes of business customers we've distinguished ourselves by investing in people who provide the best customer care in the industry. So when you call, you get a cheerful and timely response.

As part of the merger process, NEXTLINK Ohio has filed an application with the Public Utilities Commission of Ohio to merge with Chadwick Telecommunications Corporation (Case No. 98-1203-TP-AMT). Any interested person, firm, corporation, or entity who can show good cause why this application should not be granted should file with the Commission a written statement detailing the reasons on or before December 17, 1998. Unless the Commission receives a written statement to that effect and accompanying request for oral hearing on such issue, this matter will be decided on the basis of the information contained in the Application, Exhibits, and Affidavits submitted by the Applicant. Further information may be obtained by contacting the Public Utilities Commission of Ohio, 180 East Broad Street, Columbus, Ohio 43215.

If you have any concerns about your conversion to NEXTLINK, please call (800) 360-2500.

Sincerely,
