ENTRY NUNC PRO TUNC

The Commission finds:

- (1) On March 18, 2003, the Commission issued its Entry on Rehearing adopting amendments to the Electric Service and Safety Standards (ESSS) in Chapter 4901:1-10, Ohio Administrative Code (O.A.C.).
- (2) ESSS Rules 4, 5 and 6 adopted by the Commission include provisions referencing certain commonly used electric industry standards. To clarify specifically which standard is referenced, ESSS Rules 4, 5 and 6 shall be amended.

ESSS Rule 4 at paragraph (B)(2) shall be amended to state:

Each electric utility shall file with the commission as part of its tariffs, nominal service voltage available to consumers, including the number of phases and service configurations, and the voltage variations for each available service configuration. These nominal service voltages shall be based on the 2001 ~~current~~ version of the American National Standards Institute (ANSI) standard C84.1, electric power systems and equipment voltage ratings or standard as later amended.

ESSS Rule 5 at paragraph (B) shall be amended to state:

Reference for this exception is to rule 250 "General Loading Requirements and Maps" of the "American National Standard, National Electrical Safety Code."

It is, therefore,
